HOWELL HOSTS WILL TURN OUT BY THOUSANDS

Fulton County Supporters Will Give Rousing Reception to Democratic Candidate.

FROM ALL OVER GEORGIA HEARERS TO COME TODAY

Meeting Between Democratic Candidate for Governor, and Hoke Smith, Where Both Men Are Known, Will Be Memorable Event of Georgia Campaign.

TIME.
Doors open at 7:30 p. m.
Speaking begins at 8 p. m.
PLACE.
Peachtree Auditorium.

Clark Howell's thousands of ardent supporters in Fulton county will tonight have the opportunity of hearing the democratic candidate for the governorship in joint debate with the Hon. Hoke Smith.

This will be the first time the two candidates will have appeared before an audience to which both men and their record are known thoroughly. The truth will be told at the Peachtree auditorium tonight. Both speakers will be talking to men who know them too well for anything else to be attempted. Those who hear will know the men who are speaking and will understand.

Mr. Howell's supporters here have been anxious to hear him ever since the campaign opened, and were especially well pleased when Mr. Howell asked Mr. Smith for a division of time at tonight's speaking.

Though the auditorium is one of the largest in the state, it would but poorly accommodate the admirers of Mr. Howell alone, and the crowd which will turn out tonight is expected to mark a new record in political affairs in Georgia.

Not only will the Fulton county Howell men be out in force, but letters and telegrams received at Howell headquarters yesterday indicated that friends of the democratic candidate from every section of the state would arrive in the city today in order to be present at the debate tonight.

Two Presiding Officers.

Promptly at 7:30 o'clock the doors of the Peachtree auditorium will be thrown open, and at 8 o'clock, when the great crowd has been silenced by the two presiding officers, Charles T. Hopkins and Reuben Arnold, the meeting will commence.

Mr. Smith will be first introduced by Reuben Arnold in behalf of the Hoke Smith Club, and will speak for one hour. Mr. Hopkins, of the Clark Howell Club, will then rise and introduce Mr. Howell, who will in turn speak an hour and a half. Mr. Smith will then speak for half an hour.

There will be 500 reserved seats on the stage, 250 for the friends of each of the candidates. Besides this, there will be no other seats reserved, except 500 on the main floor of the auditorium, which will be held open for ladies, to whom an invitation is extended to attend. The remainder of the great building will be thrown open to the public in general.

No Laudatory Remarks.

Neither of the gentlemen who are to introduce the speakers will be allowed, according to agreement, to make any laudatory remarks about their respective friends.

No one will be allowed to interrupt neither one of the speakers with questions, although these interruptions occurred at the Columbus debate, and have frequently happened at other places when a candidate was speaking.

The meeting will be well policed, and no disorder will be tolerated. A large detail of officers will be scattered all over the house, and the author of any disorder will be promptly silenced, or in aggravated cases, expelled.

Everything has been carefully arranged by the friends of both candidates, and it is not expected that anything will occur to mar the meeting.

There will be a large number of ushers who will see that everyone who attends is comfortably seated as long as the seats last. The ushers will be as follows: H. H. Whitcomb, George C. Spence, Frampton E. Ellis, John C. Clarke, Henry Hull, Heard W. Dent, H. A. Etheridge, W. N. Johnson, Harvey Hill, Samuel D. Hewlett, C. W. Bernhardt, M. T. Roane, I. T. Catron, E. C. Hill, Chappell Everett, P. J. Voss, William H. Smith, G. W. Payne, James Gillespie, C. C. Mason, E. C. Jones, Emory Sims, W. A. Gresham, J. D. Humphries, Shelby Smith, Howell C. Cloud, W. A. Sanges, T. J. Lyon, Dr. R. B. Ridley, Jr., Herbert Haas, A. Morgan, J. H. Andrews, and J. A. Branch.

From All Over Georgia.

It is certain, from all indications that one of the most notable audiences that has ever gathered in this city will be present tonight to hear the speaking of Mr. Howell and Mr. Smith. Not only will the people of Fulton county attend in great numbers, but hundreds of Howell supporters will flock from all parts of the state to hear him defend the principals of democracy.

Mr. Hopkins, president, of the Howell Club of Fulton county, has received letters and telegrams from hundreds of Howell supporters in all quarters of the state announcing their intention of being present at this notable occasion.

Many will travel hundreds of miles to hear the debate, and ardent Howell men will be present from nearly all of the counties to be able to listen to his speech tonight.

W. D. Harwell, chairman of the committee on arrangements, last night made the following announcement:

"The doors will open at 7:30 p. m. Ladies and their escorts, and gentlemen with cards to the stage will enter at the side entrance opposite the Grand. All other persons will enter at the two front entrances. Stage seats have been equally divided between the friends of Mr. Smith and Mr. Howell.

"Five hundred chairs in the front of the auditorium are reserved for ladies and their escorts. Boys under 21 will not be admitted, except as escorts to ladies.

"Ladies are invited to be present, and are assured that perfect order will prevail."

ROOSEVELT ARRAIGNED FOR HIS EXTRAVAGANCE

Mr. Brundige Gives Some Figures Regarding White House Expenditures.

POLICE FORCE OF FORTY ON WHITE HOUSE GROUNDS

Brundige Says That It Is No Wonder Roosevelt Gets Angry at Magazines and Newspapers for Uncovering Wrong Doing.

Washington, June 7.—The house today listened to a bitter arraignment of the president at the hands of Mr. Brundige, of Arkansas, a member of the appropriations committee.

Taking the items for the refurnishing of the white house, the care of the grounds and the traveling expenses of the president as his text, Mr. Brundige compared the expenses of the last Cleveland, the McKinley and the Roosevelt administrations.

Under the Cleveland administration, he said, there was expended for the executive department, including the salary of the president, $137,200. Under the McKinley administration there was expended $144,500, while the bill under consideration carries for the executive department, including the care of the white house, green houses, etc., $253,340.

Forty White House Policemen.

In addition to this, Mr. Brundige said that there were forty policemen detailed to the care of the white house and the grounds, and this was an additional $40,000 added, bringing the total to nearly $300,000, which he denominated as extravagance. He said he did not know whether forty policemen were too few or too many, but he thought a section of the army ought to be detailed for the protection of the person of the president and care of the grounds, and these policemen permitted to go into the sparsely settled sections of Washington, where thugs and marauders were preying upon defenseless women and children.

He criticized the item appropriating $25,000 for the traveling expenses of the president and incident thereto, and said it was probably made for the purpose of providing for a repetition of the "muck rake" speech.

"As for myself," he said, "and I believe also for a large proportion of the people of this government, we have heard enough of this muck-rake and tomfoolery and we are disgusted with it."

Why Roosevelt Dislikes Critics.

"No wonder, in view of the present appropriations and present expenditures, no wonder the president should hold up to public ridicule magazines and newspapers of this country and public men and private citizens who dare to criticise.

"I entertained the hope and belief that the time will never come in the history of politics of this government when any man occupying a position of public trust and public office will rise so high and become so great that the humblest citizen and the humblest newspaper or the largest may not justly and properly criticise his official conduct and actions."

He spoke of the president's stable and enlarged on the number of horses contained therein and then finally spoke of the arrest of Mrs. Minor Morris and the appointment of the secretary to the president, Mr. Barnes, as postmaster of Washington, as showing the highhanded way the president conducts his office. During the speech Mr. Brundige was frequently applauded by the democrats, the republican side of the chamber being almost deserted.

The Ejection of Mrs. Morris.

In referring to the policemen detailed for duty in and about the white house grounds, Mr. Brundige satirically said he recalled the fact that recently the policemen made one very important "brave and gallant arrest."

Continuing along these lines, he said:

"By the aid of a burly negro, these gentlemen succeeded in ejecting from the white house an inoffensive, quiet, peaceable American woman. They carried her out, it is true, with force; they carried her out in a manner that has ever been and ever will remain an insult to EXPRESS HITS WRECK TRAIN.

Pennsylvania Limited Runs Into Train, Injuring Several.

Lancaster, Pa., June 7.—The first section of the Pennsylvania limited express, westbound on the Pennsylvania railroad, was wrecked on the cut-off at 2:46 this afternoon. This train generally runs over the central track, but for some unknown reason it was switched to track No. 4 today, on which was standing the Parkersburg wreck train, the engine facing the approaching express, and with a bumper car in front of it. The limited was running at the rate of 40 miles an hour. Charles Brown, of Rahway, N. J., the fireman of the limited, jumped when he saw a collision was inevitable, and sustained painful but not serious injuries. E. B. Fredericks, baggage master, also of Rahway, has his left arm slightly hurt, and a number of passengers were bruised. Four or five of the wreck crew were also injured slightly.

Frisco Wants Uncle Sam To Aid.

San Francisco, June 7.—Following a lengthy telegraphic communication with President Roosevelt, a sub-committee of the citizens' finance committee left for Washington today in E. H. Harriman's private car for the purpose of learning the president's views on the proposal to have congress indorse the long term bonds of San Francisco in the sum of $200,000,000.

STATE HOUSE OF LOUISIANA LEFT IN RUINS

Flames Destroy Half of the Historic Capitol at Louisiana.

Baton Rogue, La., June 7.—The old historic state capitol building caught fire late tonight. The flames spread so rapidly as to threaten the entire destruction of the building.

The roof of the senate chamber fell in soon after the fire was discovered. Thousands of Baton Rogue citizens ran to the scene and joined the firemen in the effort to save as much as possible of the structure or its contents.

The fire was checked after it had consumed almost the entire eastern half of the building above the first floor.

JEROME'S SCALP MAY BE LIFTED

Removal of New York District Attorney Is Asked.

Complaint Filed with Gov. Higgins. Alleged That He Has Neglected His Duty and That Insurance Companies Gave $50,000 To Elect Him.

Albany, N. Y., June 7.—Removal of William Travers Jerome from the office of district attorney of New York county is demanded of Governor Higgins in a complaint which has been filed at the executive chamber by William N. Amory, of New York city. Frank E. Perley, secretary to the governor, admitted tonight that such a complaint had been filed, but he would say nothing as to the nature of the charges made against Jerome.

While nothing definite can be learned here as to the nature of the charges made by Mr. Amory, it is assumed that the complaint is the one which was threatened by him before a legislative committee last winter, and is based upon the charges he then made against Mr. Jerome of negligence in failing to prosecute persons in connection with certain metropolitan traction interests.

Charges Against Jerome.

New York, June 7.—The charges filed with Governor Higgins against District Attorney Jerome, it was learned here tonight, were signed by five citizens of this city as follows: Chapman Demight, a retired stock broker; Edward P. White, a member of the produce exchange; ex-Congresseman Robert Baker, of Brooklyn; Joseph C. Hurley, secretary of the Standard Finance Company; William N. Amory, a lawyer and formerly secretary of the Third Avenue Railroad Company.

They declare that Mr. Jerome has wilfully omitted to perform his public duty, and that he received $50,000 from the large life insurance companies toward his campaign fund last fall. These contributions, it is charged, he received "as a gratuity or reward in the shape of campaign funds to compound a crime, and for a violation of the criminal statutes of this state, and has agreed or abstained in pursuance of a previous agreement or arrangement from the prosecution of sundry criminal actions in violation of section 125 of the penal code, and is therefore guilty of a felony."

Brown Under $10,000 Bond.

Tallulah, La., June 7.—Bail was fixed at $10,000 today for Dr. F. A. Mrown, who was alleged to be leader of the mob which lynched Robert T. Rogers, and who is under indictment on a charge of murder growing out of the lynching. Dr. Brown furnished the bail. Judge Randall announced that a special term of the court will try the case.

GEORGIANS PLEASED BY BRYAN MOVEMENT

Congressmen at Washington Believe That Nebraskan Will Be Nominated.

MAJORITY OF GEORGIANS LOYAL FRIENDS OF BRYAN

Only a Few Gave Him Half-Hearted Support in His Former Campaign — Eastern Business Men Are No Longer Afraid of Nebraskan.

By Jos: Ohl.

Washington, June 7.—(Special.)—The action of the Indiana democratic convention indorsing William J. Bryan for the presidency, following, as this does, immediately on the heels of similar action by the democrats of Missouri and Arkansas, has brought a great revival of Bryan talk among democrats in Washington.

It is the almost unanimous belief among democratic leaders here that conditions are pointing to another nomination for the peerless Nebraskan, who secured his first nomination for this high office largely through the efforts and support of Georgia democrats.

It will be recalled that Judge Hal Lewis, afterwards associate justice of the Georgia supreme court, made the speech placing Mr. Bryan in nomination at Chicago, and throughout the sensational battle of 1896, when Bryan was assailed by bitter opposition on the part of some democrats while his candidacy received only the most lukewarm and under protest pretense of support from others, the masses of Georgia democrats were enthusiastic in fight under his banner.

Of Special Interest to Georgians.

On this account the great revival of enthusiasm for Bryan, which now seems likely to result in his third nomination at the hands of his party is of special interest to Georgians. One of the most significant features of the present movement, if not the most significant, is the general acknowledgement, even on the part of those who once criticized him most bitterly, that Mr. Bryan, instead of being the radical extremist they once pictured him, in reality stands for conservatism. Bryan himself has not changed, even these men admit it, but their ideas of him have changed and they realize that he stands as he has always stood, for true democracy. The movement to give Mr. Bryan a great reception upon his arrival in New York from his round-the-world trip, through which the readers of The Constitution have been enabled to follow him by reading his graphic letters of travel, has been stated by eastern democrats to whom the name of Bryan was once the sign for bitter attack. These men know Mr. Bryan better than they did in 1896, and they now see there was no basis for the bitter criticism they and their imitators in other parts of the country hurled at the Nebraskan.

Bryan Not Feared in East.

This movement on the part of eastern democrats is significant of the change in sentiment on the part not only of democrats but of the masses of the republicans as well. The business men of the east, without regard to party, are said to be very friendly to the Nebraskan, or at least to have entirely lost that fear of him which led them to pile up a campaign fund running high up in the millions to secure his defeat.

It is planned to make the New York demonstration not local but national.

The fact that Governor Folk, of Missouri, has constnted to be one of the chief speakers of this demonstration is regarded significant of the strong hold Mr. Bryan has upon the real democrats of the west. So strong an impression has this revival of democratic sentiment made upon Washington that there are many public men who believe and say that they not only expect Mr. Bryan to be paid the remarkable compliment of a third nomination even in the face of two defeats, but that the nomination will probably come to him through the unanimous vote of the next democratic national convention.

OFFICER REESE SHOT THOMPSON

White Man Badly Injured by Special Officer.

Officer Reese Says That He Shot Thompson in Self Defense, in Order To Prevent Him from Using a Knife.

Sam Thompson, a white man 28 years old, was shot last night at 8 o'clock by Special Officer J. T. Reese, at 56 Wyman street, and probably fatally wounded.

Thompson, who was formerly employed in the city, but who, with his wife, has been living for the past two months at Gainesville, the home of his parents, returned to the city yesterday morning and, it is said, became intoxicated, stating to several that he intended to "clean out" Special Officer Reese, who is stationed at Elsea & May's cotton mills.

Thompson, who formerly boarded at Miss Addison's, on Wyman street, went to that locality early in the day and terrorized its populace by threats and curses.

About 7:30 o'clock last night, Officer Reese was requested to go to 56 Wyman street, a boarding house conducted by Miss Calhoun, and remove Thompson, who had fallen asleep on the front steps.

Officer Reese aroused Thompson and demanded that he leave the premises. Thompson pulled some object, supposedly a billy, from his hip pocket and struck the officer a stunning blow on the head, causing a very ugly looking wound.

The officer, not having a billy with him, drew his pistol, which was grabbed by Thompson, and the two had a tussle for possession of it. Officer Seese says that he demanded several times of Thompson to turn loose the pistol. Thompson began fighting outright and produced a knife. Reese fired to protect himself, the ball taking effect in the abdomen. Thompson was conveyed to the Grady hospital.

Chief Jennings detailed Officers Hood and Hulsey to investigate the circumstances of the case, and they rendered a report that the special officer was justifiable in shooting Thompson.

MEN ASPHYXIATED IN MINE.

One Dead and Others Are in a Serious Condition.

Red Lodge Mont., June 7.—At least one man is dead and several others are in a serious condition from asphyxiation in the Northern Pacific Railway Company's Rocky Fork coal mine, near here. Fire, which broke out in the mine several days ago, was supposed to have been extinguished but today the flames broke out again. A number of men were overcome and a rescuing party of fifty volunteers entered in search of their comrades. Many of these men also were overcome by gas, but it is thought that most of them were brought out. Joe Bracey is dead. Thomas Skelly, Al Macfarl, Terry Fleming, William Bailey and Thomas Atherton are in such serious condition that recovery is doubtful. It is believed that there are several miners still in the mine about seventy feet below the air fan and that they have perished. There is much excitement around the mine.

Secretary of State Arrested.

Madison, Wis., June 7.—Secretary of State Walter L. Houser was arrested today, charged with attempted bribery of a state official. The charge grows out of testimony given recently by State Insurance Commissioner Host to the legislative insurance investigating committee.

Terroneva Girl To Be Freed.

New York, June 7.—Decision was reached at the office of the district attorney to discharge Josephine Terroneva from custody on Monday. She will not be held for trial on charges of killing her uncle, Gaetano Reggio. Last Friday a jury acquitted her of the charge of killing her aunt, Mrs. Reggio.

Neill and Reynolds at White House.

Washington, June 7.—Messrs. Neill and Reynolds, who made the recent investigation of stock yards called at the white house today and conferred with the president. They decline to discuss their visit.

AND INDIANA ALSO SHOUTS BRYAN IN 1908

With Great Cheer the Democratic State Convention Indorses Nebraskan.

HENRY WATTERSON DECLARES FOR BRYAN

Veteran Kentuckian Editor Says Bryan Will Be Nominated by States Before the Convention Meets—Watterson Says Cleveland Will Support Bryan.

Louisville, Ky., June 7.—(Special.) In tomorrow's Courier-Journal, under the caption, "Hurrah for Bryan," Henry Watterson comes out flatfootedly for the Nebraska statesman as the democratic nominee for president, and predicts his nomination by states before the meeting of the convention. He says Cleveland and all sound-money democrats will support him.

DEMOCRATS OF INDIANA CALL FOR BRYAN IN 1908

Indianapolis, Ind., June 7.—Democrats of Indiana, in convention today, adopted a platform strongly indorsing W. J. Bryan for the presidency, and selected a state ticket for all offices except governor and reporter of the supreme court. Benjamin F. Shively, of South Bend, former congressman from the thirteenth Indiana district, was permanent chairman.

Referring to W. J. Bryan, he said:

"That which is today eulogized and approved as broad statesmanship and patriotism in Theodore Roosevelt, was a few years ago denounced as reactionary, revolutionary and unpatriotic in William Jennings Bryan. The aftersight of the one is almost equal to the foresight of the other."

The resolutions committee report was read by Samuel I. Ralston, and among other things it said:

"The democracy of Indiana, in convention assembled, sends greetings across the sea to that wise and conservative statesmen, unaltering patriot and superb leader, William Jennings Bryan, and pledges its vote in convention and the electoral vote of Indiana to him for president in 1908.

"For nearly ten years the republican party has been in absolute control in all departments in the national government, with power to change unjust conditions and to rectify evils. Yet, during that time colossal combinations of capital have dominated the people and have stifled competition and unfairly limited the opportunity of the individual citizen. Wealth thereby illegally obtained has been unsparingly used to control legislation and corrupt elections. No honest effort has been made or is being made by republican legislation to cure or eradicate these evils. We denounce the hypocrisy of the republican party which, while pretending to legislate against these conditions, deals only with the symptoms and not with the disease. The unfair, tyrannical features of the so-called 'protective tariff' have made these things possible, and no permanent relief can be secured until its obnoxious features are removed. We demand that this be done by a tariff for revenue only."

The following were nominated:

Secretary of state, James F. Cox, Columbus; auditor, Marian Bailey, Lizton; treasurer, John Isenbarger, North Manchester; attorney general, Walter J. Lotz, Muncie.

STATE WANTS MORE TAXES

Proceedings To Reassess the T. C., I. and R. Company.

Nashville, Tenn., June 7.—Proceedings were instituted at Altamont, Grundy county, today, whereby it is sought to reassess the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company in the matter of taxes for the years 1903, 1904, 1905 and 1906. The amount involved is estimated at not less than $600,000. State Revenue Agent James R. Jetton is prosecuting in behalf of the state and Grundy county, the latter being the corporation's legal headquarters. He alleges that for many years the corporation has been assessed at an inadequate value and grossly underestimated in making up the tax lists. Except in the years named, the statute of limitations applies.

An Actual Market Value.

It is the state's contention that the corporation should pay taxes on the actual market value of the aggregate of its stock and bonds, less the amount assessed on the company's tangible property in this and other states. It is admitted that the company should have credit for the amount of this latter assessment, but it is contended by the state that the amount of these several assessments is far short of the actual cash lect. An accounting not having market value of stocks and bonds of the company and that upon this difference the state and county are entitled to collbeen ordered, the figures are not known, but it is estimated by the state that this alleged difference will average an excess of $10,000,000 for each year involved.

The company's capital stock, preferred and common, was recently increased and is now $30,000,000. The bonded indebtedness is about $15,000,000.

WOMAN WHO STOLE TEAM IS NOW UNDER ARREST

The woman who disappeared with a horse and buggy belonging to O. D. Booth, the liveryman, Tuesday morning about 11 o'clock, was located last night about 7 o'clock at Greensboro, having evidently driven to that city.

The woman, whose identity is unknown, went to the stable of Mr. Booth, Saturday about 11 o'clock, and hired the horse and buggy to drive about two miles in the country, stating that she would be back about 6 o'clock of the same evening, and that as she didn't have her purse along with her at the time, she would settle for the team on returning.

The team didn't return at the hour named, and at 7 o'clock this morning, becoming suspicious, telephoned every stable in town to ascertain if she had left the horse and buggy there by mistake.

The woman was arrested by an officer last night at Greensboro. She will be brought back to the city this morning. Mr. Booth, when notified of the capture, left last night for Greensboro to identify the woman and team.

Tucker To Be Electrocuted.

Boston, June 7.—Charles Louis Tucker, of Auburndale, convicted of the murder of Mabel Page, in 1904, will be electrocuted in the state prison at Charlestown during the week beginning June 10. Governor Curtis Guild announced late tonight that he had decided not to commute the sentence to life imprisonment.

POLICE MATRON TAKES UP WORK

Miss Ruth Sanderson Has Arrived at the Police Station.

Miss Ruth Sanderson, the new matron of the police department, assumed her duties in that capacity last night. She arrived at the station at 7 o'clock last night, and after being formerly introduced to the various officials of the force and an inspection of the premises, immediately took up the work that she has chosen with a grace that speaks of years of experience and ability.

Three years ago, when the great cyclone visited Gainesville, Miss Sanderson was placed in charge of the hospitals of that city. She was for many years connected with the Floating hospital stationed at Boston, where for two months of the hot summer the sick children of the poor of that great city are cared for by being taken aboard a ship which is drawn by a tug boat up and down the coast each day, allowing the sick little fellows a recreation, as well as medical attention. Miss Sanderson at one time was accident nurse of the famous Northern hospital, of Liverpool, England.

IN THE COURTS

F. L. Ingraham has brought suit in the superior court for $5,000 damages against the Atlanta Gas Light Company, alleging that on March 1 an employee of the company forcibly entered his premises, 108 Capitol avenue, over the protest of his wife, and removed therefrom a slot gas meter, in which there was deposited 50 cents advance payment for 500 cubic feet of gas.

He avers that the company is using a public franchise, and is a public utility corporation which is bound to furnish gas to the public without discrimination; that the overbearing and disrespectful way in which the agents of the company conducted themselves in removing the meter entitles him to punitive damages, and that he refused the tender of 50 cents made by the agent for the unused 500 cubic feet of gas.

Alderman James L. Key is the attorney for the petitioner.

John A. Manget, L. B. Morgan, G. E. Adams and W. W. Moore have filed a petition in the superior court to be incorporated under the name of the "Browder-Manget Company," which will carry on the business of wholesale commission dealers in groceries, fruit, grain and hay. The capital stock is to be $30,000 with the privilege of increasing it to $50,000.

BUCKET SHOPS FACING FIGHT

Credit Men's Association Will Urge War Against Them.

The Credit Men's Association of Atlanta has determined to wage a vigorous war against bucket shops in Georgia, and the fight will be carried on until a statute is enacted prohibiting the transaction of such business in the state.

At a special meeting held last night at the Piedmont hotel, the bill reported by the legislative committee of the body was indorsed, and a special committee, of which D. H. Kirkland, the vice president of the J. K. Orr Shoe Company, is chairman, was instructed to take the necessary steps to secure its introduction by Fulton county's representatives in the legislature, and its passage by that body.

Not only will the credit men work for the passage of this bill, but the aid of the merchants of the state and the ministry will be invoked.

Dr. Len G. Broughton, pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle church, is interested in this question of the abolishment of bucket shops from a moral standpoint. He has volunteered to arouse interest among the ministers of the state against what he conceives to be an iniquitous evil, and in order to awaken a moral sentiment in support of the bill which the Credit Men's Association will introduce, Dr. Broughton will request ministers in the country districts throughout the state to preach sermons upon the matter.

The full text of the bill which will be introduced by the Fulton county delegation in the legislature will be published later in the Constitution.

NORFOLK NAMED BY KNIGHTS.

Order Asked To Stand Sponsor for the Paulists.

New Haven, Conn., June 7.—A final adjournment of the delegates to the national convention of the Knights of Columbus was taken tonight. Norfolk was selected as the place for next year's convetion in August.

The California delegates presented an appeal to the convention in behalf of the members of the order in San Francisco. The convention voted a sum which will approach $100,000 for relief work.

This money will be forthcoming immediately from the national fund, which in turn will be reimbursed by two assessments of 40 cents on each member. The assessments will be payable in July and the following January.

Rev. Father Doyle, of Washington, appeared before the national body for the purpose of making an appeal to the order that it act as sponsor for the Paulists and lend its support in spreading the influence of the Roman Catholic religion in the United States. It was voted to give an contribution, which it is hoped will amount to $180,000.

Considerable time was spent during the afternoon session, in considering some revisions of the by-laws and constitution, the most important of which was the raising of minimum institution from $5 to $10. This was adopted. Among other changes, acted favorably upon, was the adoption of a new schedule for extra hazardous risks for membership. This will affect only a few applicants.

SWAPPED HORSE TO SECURE BOOT

Such Is Charge Against Rev. Mr. Kister.

Public Meeting Held in Continuation of the Hundredth Convention of General Synod of the Reformed Church in America.

New York, June 7.—A public meeting was held tonight in the Sollegiate Reformed church in continuation of the ceremonies of the one hundredth convention of the general synod of the Reform church in America. Dr. oDnald Sage McKay, pastor of the church, and newly elected president of the synod, presided. A letter of regret from President Roosevelt was read.

At the day session of the convention, appeals were received from two suspended ministers asking for a review of their cases. One case is that of the Rev. Sepka Kister, formerly pastor of the Reformed church, at Sull, Iowa. The charge against him is of an unusual character. It is alleged that he borrowed a horse from a parishoner, and latter brought back an inferor animal in its place, and he said the horse he borrowed had died.

Horse Is Found.

Later on the horse turned up in possession of a farmer living at some distance and, it is charged, the minister had traded horses with him, receiving some cash "to boot." The clergyman denied having said that the horse was dead when he brought back the other horse. Mr. Kister was removed from the ministry by the Iowa classes, but the case has been bitterly fought back and forth between the classis, and the particular synod of Chicago, to which an appeal was taken in the first instance. No action was taken on the appeal today.

HOPKINS HITS YOUNG GERMAN

Tells Police Hague Had Insulted a Young Lady.

J. H. Hopkins, a young white man 25 years of age, of 66 Ivy street, was arrested yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clok for disorderly conduct and for carrying a gun.

Hopkins stated at the station that a young German by the name of Hogue has been annoying a young lady friend o fhis boarding at the same place by getting in front of her window when she comes home from work to flirt with her. Yesterday afternoon as she passed the grocery store adjoining the boarding house, the young lady says that Hogue insulted her.

She immediately lookek up her friend, Mr. Hopkins, and informed hi mof what had happened. He found Hogue and demanded an explanation.

Mr. Hopkins says that he received very abrupt treatment from Mr. Hogue, so he caught him by the neck and threw him out of the store. He says that Hogue picked up a brickbat and threw it at him. Mr. Hopkins started to draw his revolver but says he decided not to do so.

Officer Poole approached about that time and seeing the pistol in Mr. Hopkins' pocket arrested him.

CAPT. WYNNE NOT IMBECILE

But Sense of Right and Wrong Is Not Normal.

New York, June 7.—The courtmartial of Captain Wynne, of the United States marine corps, which was suspended yesterday at the request of the judge advocate, was resumed today. Dr. J. C. Decker, surgeon of the battleship Alabama, testified today that Captain Wynne is not insane, nor weak minded to the extent of being imbecile, but that his sense of right and wrong is not normal.

"I believe his proneness to irritability is a disease, and shourd be excused entirely," said Dr. Decker. The witness also said that Captain Wynne is not a free normal man, when irritated, and not so morally responsible as a normal man. If the accused disobeyed, the doctor said, he believed it was caused by the diseased condition. He believed there would be danger of injustice in punishing him for breach of discipline when he had been irritated.

Dr. F. M. Furlong, of Washington, said he treated Captain Wynne at Guantanamo in 1903 for the most severe headache he ever knew of. When we spoke soothingly to Wynne, witness said Wynne cursed him for not offering him instant relief. At that time, witness said, Captain Wynne was normal, except for extreme irritability.

HANDSOME BRACELET LOST.

Mrs. Robert Walthour Lost Christmas Gift from Her Husband Last Night.

Mrs. Robert Walthour, wife of Bobby Walthour, the world's champion bicyclist, had the misfortune to lose a $300 gold bracelet last night at 8 o'clock while in the act of alighting from an electric car just inside the entrance to Piedmont park. The ornament was a Christmas present from Walthour to his wife, and a suitable reward will be paid for its return to Mr. Walthour.

Just after the car stopped last night inside the entrance to the park, and while the passengers were alighting from it, another car ran into it from the rear, the motorman having lost control of the brakes. Mr. Walthour was in the act of assisting Mrs. Walthour from the car when the collision occurred, and she was thrown forward with such force that the bracelet was broken from her wrist and lost. None of the passengers were injured.

the American people, to the American manhood and to the American womanhood." (Applause on the democratic side.)

"But, Mr. Chairman, that may have been necessary. In my candid judgment it was disgraceful in the extreme. An innocent, inoffensive woman, whose only offense had been the desire to see the great chief of the United States in the executive mansion of this government. But, Mr. Chairman, when these gallant heroes and brave warriors had succeeded with much danger to their personal security in expelling this defenseless character from this magnificent mansion, it seems to me that ordinary decency and ordinary propriety would have suggested that there the matter would stop. Such was not the case. We find this same set, we find this same lot of policemen passing throughout the city of Washington going into department stores.

Trying To Blacken Mrs. Morris.

"We find them writing letters to other cities and other states in order to discover and unearth some evidence of the fact that there was some stain or some blot on the character of this woman, whom they had so unceremoniously and cowardly ejected from the white house of the government. (Applause on the democratic side.)

"Mr. Chairman, this, in my judgment was the greater crime of the two. It is repulsive to decency, to honor and integrity alike. But, Mr. Chairman, this is not all. If these forty gentlemen ought to be retained there I have no objection, but we learn that this gallant gentleman, the brave and fearless employee who gave the order that this lady should be thus ejected from the white house finds his reward by being appointed by the executive of this government to one of the highest offices in the gift of the president. He is made postmaster of the great city of Washington, and thus again were confronted with the great truth that bravery has its own reward. (Laughter.)

FUNERAL OF SENATOR GORMAN

Services Simple In Accordance With His Wishes.

Washington, June 7.—With simplicity and complete absence of ostentation, the funeral services of the late Senator Arthur P. Gorman, of Maryland, took place in this city today from his late residence.

Before the services began many prominent men, including Vice President Fairbanks and nearly all of Senator Gorman's closest political associates in Maryland, as well as colleagues from the senate and house, in addition to members of congressional committees, were afforded an opportunity to view the body. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, among them being a large wreath of water lilies and ferns from President Roosevelt, an immense wreath of orchids, lilies of the valley, roses and other flowers from the senate, and a large wreath of red roses from Henry G. Davis, of West Virginia.

Rev. Dr. Wallace Radcliffe, pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian church, which Senator Gorman attended, officiated. The service, which was brief, was held in the presence of about 100 persons, including relatives, the committees of congress, Vice President Fairbanks, Governor Warfield, of Maryland, and fourteen active and honorary pallbearers chosen from among Senator Gorman's political friends in Maryland. The body was placed in a vault in Oak Hill cemetery, temporarily. The services at the vault consisted of prayer and the committal.

They are charged with violating the section of the penal code relating to prize fighting. Bail was fixed at $500 in each case. Twelve other persons, including fighters, waiters and ticket sellers, also were held for trial on a similar charge.

WOMAH SHOT AT A PICNIC

Mrs. Dunlavy and Edward Halley Receive Shotgun Charge.

Albany, Ga., June 7.—(Special)—This morning at 10:30 o'clock Mrs. R. F. Dunlavy was seriously wounded by Edward Holley. The shooting was accidental. Mrs. Dunlavy and Halley were members of a picnic party that had gone out to Palmyra from Albany. Several of the ladies wandered off into the woods and Holley heard them screaming as if something was wrong. He hastened to the drag and got a gun. In some way it struck the body of the drag and the load was discharged through his hand, passing on and striking Mrs. Dunlavy, who was standing near, the charge taking effect in the abdomen. While not considered fatal, the wound is of a very serious nature. Holley's wound is of a very painful nature, but not serious.

HARD WORK FOR MISS SUTTON.

She Wins Tennis Match by Sheer Staying Power.

Liverpool, June 7.—Miss May Sutton, of Passadena, Cal., was given one of the hardest matches she ever had in the second round ladies' singles championship this afternoon. Her opponent was Mrs. Sterry, who, as Miss Copper, gained many tennis honors a few years ago. It was only the wonderful ability of Miss Sutton that saved her. At the outset, Miss Sutton was nonplussed by Mrs. Sterry's tactics. The latter kept alternately making a short drive just over the net and along lots, and Miss Sutton was kept running all over the courts, and although winning the first set, lost the second—the first she has lost in England.

By sheer staying power she secured the third set, and march, but she was tired out, and it was a considerable time before she could take the courts again. Even then, she had not fully recovered, and she and D. R. Rhodes, of Boston, were beaten in the all-English doubles championship match by E. Casdagli and Mrs. Sterry. Early in the day she and Mr. Rhodes had defeated Mr. Fry, a prominent Irish player, and Miss F. Longhurst, so that the day was a severe test of the staying power of the champion.

$30 PER MONTH AND HIS GRAFT MADE HIM RICH

How Cheap Pennsylvania Railroad Clerk Used Place To Fill Pockets.

GIFTS OF COAL STOCK SIMPLY FLOODED HIM

Like Other "Pennsy" Officials, He Thought He Was There To Take All He Could Get—Grafter Boyer Has Been Discharged by Cassatt.

Philadelphia, June 7.—New light was shed today on the motives leading to the abolition of freight rebates by the railroads when James McCrea, first vice president of the Pennsylvania, which operated the Pennsylvania railroad lines west of Pittsburg, appeared as a witness before the interstate commerce commission. Mr. McCrea expressed himself as favorable to publicity in the rating of mines and the distribution of cars. He surprised the commissioners and their counsel by announcing that for nearly two years and up to the time of President Cassatt's recent departure for Europe, the board of directors of the Pennsylvania railroad, of which he is a member, had been considering means for eliminating the private car from the lines of the company. He declared the company had concluded that the use of these cars was unwise.

When Cassatt Stopped Rebating.

Towards the conclusion of his testimony Attorney Glasgow asked Mr. McCrea when President Cassatt decided to stop rebating.

"Just as soon as he got control of the Pennsylvania railroad; that was in 1889," said Mr. McCrea.

"Simultaneously, the community of interest plan was adopted, was it not?" was Mr. Glasgow's next question.

Mr. McCrea said he was not certain as to that. He then entered into a length explanation of the rebate system and declared that the directors or other railroads were pleased with the idea of abolishing it when the subject was brought to their attention.

He said he thought it questionable if rebating would have been voluntarily stopped by the railroads. After replying to numerous questions Mr. McCrea admitted finally that the rebating stopped when the community of interests plan started. He asserted that the shipper was never so fairly treated as now. He has stable rates and is placed in a fair position with his competitors.

How a Cheap Clerk Got Rich.

There were other interesting developments during today's hearing which was protracted until 6 o'clock tonight. Joseph K. Aiken, who has been chief clerk in the superintendent's office of the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania, revealed almost as startling evidence as that given by Joseph P. Boyer, before the commission yesterday. On a salary which he said varied from $30 to $126 per month Aiken had purchased stock in different coal companies amounting to nearly $75,000. He admitted having received gifts of cash from coal operators on the Pennsylvania lines and had also received $50 a month for several months from a company store.

S. F. Potter, president of the Donohoe Coal and Coke Company, whose operations are located in Westmoreland county, charged that the Pennsylvania railroad had practiced gross discrimination in the distribution of cars to his company. One car a day was his allotment for seven months, he declared.

Mr. Glasgow asked the witness if his company was able to learn the rating of the neighboring lines.

Shot at Their Detective.

"We sent a detective to the Loyahanna mines," the witness said, "to see how many cars were sent there. They shot at him and he was afraid to go back."

The last witness of the day was W. W. Patterson, a hard coal operator, who charged that he was driven out of the soft coal buisness in Meriden, W. Va., because of discrimination on the part of the Baltimore and Ohio, in the distribution of cars. He declares that the operations of the Philippi Coal Company, of which he was president, had a capacity equal to that of the Southern Coal and Transportation Company and the Century Company combined, but that while both of these companies were plentifully supplied with cars, his company had never been able to fill any one contract. The plant was worth more than $1,000,000 he said, but was sold for $450,000.

Joseph Boyer Discharged.

Joseph Boyer, the Pennsylvania railroad employee, who yesterday testified before the interstate commerce commission to having received large sums of money and other gratuities from producers of coal on the Pennsylvania railroad lines, was dismissed from the service of the company.

When the matter was brought to the attention of President Cassatt he directed the immediate discharge of Boyer.

Boyer, in his testimony yesterday, said that he had accepted more than $46,000 from coal mining companies during a period of three years. He was chief clerk in the office of A. W. Gibbs, superintendent of motive power of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and purchased the fuel coal used in the locomotives of the company. The donors, he said, were five different coal companies which furnished coal to the railroad. Boyer's testimony was of a sensational character. He testified that he had been allowed from 3 to 5 cents on each ton sold to the railroad company in such a matter of fact manner that the commissioners were almost stupefied by the startling admissions.

SOUTH CONTROLS COTTON SUPPLY

And Will Control It for Years to Come.

So Says President Macara of International Association of Cotton Spinners—Absurd, He Says, To Talk of Getting Enough British Cotton.

London, June 7.—In the course of an interview published in The Daily Chronicle this morning, Charles W. Right Macara, president of the International Federation of Master Cotton Spinners, said that while he did not underestimate the importance of cultivation of cotton in the colonies, he regarded it as absurd for statesmen to talk of smothering speculators with British cotton.

Many years, Mr. Macara said, must elapse before any substantial supply can be obtained from British sources. Much is possible by the development of the industry in India, but for the present, Great Britain is mainly dependent on the southern states of America, where there are immense possibilities.

The British commission, which has just returned from the southern states, has not reported, but Mr. Macara said he believed its report would be a unanimous declaration that there is virtually a legitimate field for the extension of cotton cultivation in the United States, the chief difficulty being to get the requisite kind of labor. Mr. Macara thinks the growing of cotton at ten cents a pound ought to be remunerative enough to attract capital, and that if labor and capital were obtainable there is little doubt that the United States might add millions of bales to her present output.

"It will be our duty," Mr. Macara said, "while encouraging the British cotton growing movement, also to do what we can to further the systematic extension of cotton cultivation in the southern states, where I am convinced our chief hope of an adequate supply of the raw material at present lies."

Constipation the Cause of Disease

Nature's Own Remedy

Constipation is not only disagreeable—it is dangerous. If allowed to run on and become chronic it will prove the forerunner of sickness and disease. Nature intended that the bowels should move regularly, at least, once every day, and she will not be satisfied with anything less. The delicate stomach and bowels are the keystone of the arch of the human physical organization, and should be kept in normal working order to preserve health. When the bowels become sluggish they require a natural and harmless laxative. Too often they are permanently damaged by powerful drugs taken into them several times a day in the effort to force action. Nature herself has provided her own harmless laxative, the famous Natural Mineral Water—HUNYADI JANOS—which can be relied upon for quick and sure results. One dose of this water (one-half tumblerful) drunk on arising in the morning (slightly warmed for best results) will, within an hour, move the bowels gently and copiously. A bottle costs but a trifle and contains many doses. At all druggists.

RATE MEASURE TO CONFERENCE

Senate Votes To Return Bill to the Conferees.

Dominant Thought Favorable To Sustaining All the Amendments of the Senate—Foraker Gives Notice About Statehood Bill.

Washington, June 7.—After a day devoted almost exclusively to the discussion of the conference report on the railroad rate bill, the senate decided at 6 o'clock this afternoon to send that measure back to conference. The debate on the bill covered the various questions of free passes, the salaries of the interior commerce commissioners and the penal provisions of the bill. There were differences of opinion on all these points, but the dominant thought was favorable to sustaining all the senate provisions.

Senator Foraker gave notice that he would move to take up the conference report on the statehood bill as soon as the report on the rate bill should be disposed of, but afterward said he would probably not make an effort in that direction until next Tuesday, when it is believed Senator Beveridge, who is in charge of the report, can be present.

The bill providing for the control of the waters of Niagara river was passed.

Sympathetic Telegram Is Sent to King of Italy.

Vienna, June 7.—Emperor William proceeded today to visit Count Hans von Wilcze at Kreutzenstein castle, accompanied by the German ambassador and the imperial suite.

The telegrams exchanged yesterday between the Austrian and German emperors on the one hand and the king of Italy on the other, evidently were drawn up with the view to discouraging a continuance of the reports of coldness between Emperor William and King Victor Emmanuel and the consequent weakening of deirbund. The two emperors telegraphed jointly as follows:

"As two allies we send to you the third, a sincere, united expression of unalterable friendship."

The Italian king's reply was equally warm-hearted. He telegraphed:

"I share your satisfaction for unity and beg that you will accept the assurance of my true and inviolable amity."

MANUFACTURERS FOR IMMIGRATION

Annual Session of Georgia Industrial Association.

Jeff Davis, of Toccoa, Was Elected President, All Others Holding Another Term—Many Important Recommendations Made.

Warm Springs, Ga., June 7.—(Special.) What was characterized by President F. B. Gordon as a symposium on the subject of labor and immigration that is destined to be historic was afforded today at the sixth annual meeting of the Georgia Industrial Association. Seventy-five prominent Georgia cotton mill men were present and listened to the addresses and papers on these important subjects.

The feature of the immigration symposium, and indeed one of the greatest features of the entire convention, was the address of Hon. Frank P. Sargent, of Washington, commissioner general of immigration. He said that more people was the need of Georgia, and that Georgia could get immigration just like other sections of the country had gone to work and got it.

"Georgia is not on dress parade quite enough," he declared. "The people of Europe don't know about this splendid state and its great opportunities. You must advertise. At present immigrants go to New York or Pennsylvania or the northwest because their friends or relatives before them have gone to those sections. Once let the tide of immigration set in southward, good and strong, and it will continue."

Georgia's Immigration.

Mr. Sargent said that Georgia was beginning to make progress in the way of securing immigrants. In the last ten years Georgia received the following immigrants who came to this state direct from Europe: 630 Greeks, 651 Hebrews, 319 Germans, 196 Englishmen, 162 Syrians, 85 Irishmen and 96 south Italians.

That immigration to this state is on the increase is shown by the following figures showing the immigration during the past ten months, as contrasted with the preceding eight years: 122 Greeks, 165 Hebrews, 68 Germans, 42 Englishmen, 23 Syrians, 18 Irishmmen and 27 Italians.

Those who came during the eight years were classified as follows, regarding occupation: 214 agriculturalists, 66 professional people, 537 skilled laborers, 439 laborers and 960 people, mostly women and children, having no occupation. Of those who came during the ten months' period referred to, 50 were agriculturalists, 19 professional people, 111 and 212 had no occupation.

Advocated State Bureau.

To get immigration, Georgia would have to go about it in a business-like wway, Mr. Sargent said. He advocated the establishment of a state bureau of immigration—a state institution—having behind it the authority of the state of Georgia. The present "Georgia Bureau of Immigration" is simply an association of six railroads.

Mr. Sargent also advocated an intelligent and systematic advertising campaign. Put literature in the hands of the people whom Georgia wants to get—send it to their native lands, and by all means print it in their native language, otherwise it is a waste of money. The speaker gave some striking instances of how money was being wasted printing advertisements in English intended to attract people who reside in foreign countries—among other things an exhaustive publication by the United States government (in English), of course), setting forth detailed information regarding each state that would likely prove of interest to people in other countries who were thinking of emigrating to America.

Direct Steamship Lines.

If Georgia was really in earnest in this matter of getting more folks and the need for farm and mill labor was as great as was pictured, Mr. Sargent said, then the thing above all things to do was to induce the steamship companies to operate lines direct between a Georgia port and the European countries, and thus bring the immigrants straight to Georgia. With all the business that the state of Georgia has, and with all its mass of products to ship across the ocean, it was indeed a wonder to the speaker that steamships did not ply direct between Savannah and Brunswick and Europe. "Why cannot the state of Georgia have its own European seaport? Why cannot a boat line operate direct from Savannah to the old world? A speaker just now said that plenty of money could be secured to build cotton mills in Georgia, but that the trouble was securing the labor. If you have all that money, put on your boat lines, bring a few immigrants direct to Georgia, treat them well and thousands of others will follow, for they will write home and tell what a great country Georgia is. When immigrants land in the city of New York many who had intended becoming agriculturists are dazzled by the glare and glitter, and many of them conclude that the metropolis is the place for them. If I had my way I would not let a single immigrant land in New York city."

"What Is Necessary for the People of Georgia to Do in Order to Secure and Take Care of Immigrants" was the subject of a practical and entertaining address by Colonel Samuel C. Dunlap, commissioner of the Georgia bureau of immigration. He spoke of the efforts already being done, and suggested extensive and practical advertising. The main thing was to educate the people of Georgia as to what they had and what they offered immigrants, he said. He hoped that every newspaper in Georgia would print the speech of Commissioner General of Immigration Sargent in full, he said.

Colonel Dunlap did not think it was necessary to create the office of commissioner of immigration in Georgia, he said. It was his idea to have this work done under the supervision of the commissioner of agriculture. It is simply a question of appropriating enough money for the purpose, and with a sufficient appropriation the department of agriculture could do the work.

Other Immigration Addresses.

At the afternoon session a splendid and helpful address was made by M. V. Richards, land and industrial agent of the Southern railway, whose subject was, "Immigration as the Foundation for Securing Mill Help in the South." This is a subject with which Mr. Richards is completely familiar, and he gave the Georgia mill men much valuable and timely information on the subject.

"The Problems of Labor and Immigration in the South and Their Solution" was the subject of a fine address by Hon. E. J. Watson, commissioner, state of South Carolina, department of agriculture, commerce and immigration. Mr. Watson is an expert on this subject, and in Mr. Sargent's address he made a complimentary reference to his fine work in securing immigration for South Carolina.

In the discussion on the subject of labor in Georgia it was stated that $4,000,000 worth of cotton mill machinery in the state is idle because of the scarcity of labor.

Mr. Massey's Address.

The first feature of the morning session after the reading of President Frederick B. Gordon's annual report was an address on the subject, "Cooperation Among Cotton Mills," by Mr. J. D. Massey, treasurer of the Eagle and Phenix mills and ex-president of the Columbus Textile Manufacturers' Association.

Hon. T. L. Wainwright, president of the Stonewall cotton mills, of Mississippi, was to have read a paper on the subject, "The Relation of the Cotton Mills of Mississippi to Labor and Legislation." He was unable to be present, but sent his paper.

Major J. F. Hanson was also on the programme for an informal talk on the subject of labor and immigration, but wired President Gordon that the necessity of his going to Atlanta made it impossible for him to come to the convention.

An Immigrant Address.

A feature of the day was a talk by C. Rasmussen, of Minneapolis, representing Scandinavian newspapers published in this country. Mr. Rasmussen came to this country from Denmark thirty-three years ago, and landed in New York with only a few dollars in his pocket. He has been successful in business, is a patriotic citizen and devoted to America, and is a fine type of the immigrant who has become a prominent and respected citizen by his energy and worth. Mr. Rasmussen said that the glories of Georgia should not be hidden under a bushel, but that the state's advantages and desire to secure immigrants should be advertised. He has not only imbibed American political theories (in the highest sense of the term, being in the fullest sympathy with a democratic system of government), but he has also imbibed a very fair proportion of American wit, and several times today, during his remarks, had the convention in roars.

Dr. Allen Makes Address.

The crowning feature of the closing session of the convention tonight was an address by Rev. Young J. Allen, D.D., of Shanghai, China. The venerable missionary spoke most interestingly of "Trade Conditions with and Conditions in China." The cotton mill men present, quite a number of whom make goods sold in the China markets, listened with the closest attention to his explanation of the recent Chinese boycott. He gave a clear explanation of trade conditions in China, and his address not only contained many facts of value to his hearers, but was most entertaining.

Against Enticing Help.

An important action taken by the convention was the adoption of resolutions deprecating the habit among Georgia cotton mills of enticing each other's help. All the mills are not guilty, but the practice, which originated from scarcity of labor, has grown to the extent that it was thought wise to take official action on the subject.

Election of Officers.

The election of officers this afternoon resulted as follows: President, Jeff Davis, Toccoa, Ga.; vice president, P. P. Melkleham, Lindale, Ga.; secretary and treasuter, Charles D. Tuller, Atlanta, Ga.; executive committee, J. P. Verdery, chairman, Augusta; J. L. Hand, Pelham; Fuller E. Callaway, LaGrange; B. S. Walker, Monroe, and W. J. Kincaid, Griffin.

President F. B. Gordon's Address.

President Gordon, in opening the convention, said in part:

"Gentlemen of the Georgia Industrial Association and Guests: To help meet and solve some of the problems constantly confronting the textile industry, by conference and cooperation, is the object of this association, and we are gathered here today, a body of practical business men, on the very serious purpose of conferring together in an endeavor to overcome certain apparently insurmountable obstacles and to remedy, if possible, certain well-recognized evils pertaining to the great cotton spinning industry of Georgia and the south."

After discussing the work of the association and its value to the manufacturers, Mr. Gordon continued:

"In considering the questions which should receive special attention at this convention, and in planning for a line of work for another year you will note from the personnel of the distinguished speakers who will address us, that the most prominent theme at present in our minds is the question of scrcity of labor in all lines of industrial work, in the south, especially as it restricts and impedes, not only the further development of the textile industry of our section, but prevents the full employment of the capital already invested. The latest available figures as to cotton mills of Georgia, show that we have 113 plants in operation, at the present time, equipped with 1,770,967 spindles and 38,590 looms.

"Twenty-two dollars to the spindle will very closely approximate the average amount upon which these plants are capitalized and on which they must earn dividends; or a total capital in round figures of $40,000,000. Recent estimates by competent authorities would indicate that an average of 10 per cent of all the cotton mill machinery in Georgia is constantly idle for want of the needed number of operatives. Thus we find in one industry, in one state alone, four millions of dollars of idle capital that should be doing its part toward the distribution of pay rolls and the creation of dividends. Or to paint a more vivid picture, imagine twelve average sized cotton mills in Georgia, absolutely shut down, all the time, for want of hands to run the machinery, and you can better realize just what this scarcity of labor means to one industry.

"This idle machinery also has a direct bearing on the price of cotton, to the detriment of the planter, for the decreased demand, estimated from this cause alone, by Henry G. Hester, of the New Orleans cotton exchange, amounted, last year, to 1,000,000 bales.

"Proposed Georgia Bureau of Immigration."

"This shortage of labor, however, is not confined to the cotton mills of the state, but complaint is general with every branch of industry, and probably 10,000 to 20,000 more daily laborers could find immediate employment in Georgia. I would earnestly recommend that the convention adopt a resolution looking to the holding in Atlanta, in July, of an immigration convention, to which shall be invited all commercial bodies in Georgia, including all chambers of commerce and boards of trade, and that a special invitation be extended to the Georgia Agricultural Association and to the Georgia division of the Southern Cotton Association to the end that this important matter may be considered by the most complete possible representation of the different interests affected, with the hope that harmonious and enthusiastic support may be secured, looking to teh establishment of a Georgia bureau of immigration."

Speaking of national legislation necessary to aid the cotton trade, Mr. Gordon urges the people to "get in touch with your congressmen and let them know your views on these important matters and the influence of this and other commercial organizations will be felt where it is badly needed. An immense foreign trade awaits development and the south, which raises 80 per cent of the world's cotton should multiply its mills and obtain her share of the world's trade in textile fabrics.

"Our association has no fight to make upon labor unions, legitimately conducted and wisely officered.

"On the contrary, it recognizes it as agency for the protection of the rights of its members and the accomplishment of great good when conducted by sober, honest, intelligent, industrious and patriotic men, who seek to promote the social, moral and financial welfare of the members with due regard for the rights and interests of all classes of the community, including nonunion workmen and employers."

President Gordon concluded by thanking all the officers, members and others who had aided in the work and by good wishes for his successor.

BETTER CIGARS— HOW TO KNOW THEM

CIGAR EDITORIALS—No. 6

A good cigar is not grown—it is made. The quality of the tobacco, as it stands in the ground, is not necessarily the determining factor. The cigar made from it may or may not be a good one, depending on

First—The way the leaf is cured.
Second—The way the leaf is blended.
Thira—The way the cigar is made, handled and kept.
Fourth—The way the cigar is conditioned before shipment.

Up to a few years ago these processes had remained substantially as they were in the days of Sir Walter Raleigh.

The American Cigar Company has, in a few years' time, and after the expenditure of millions of dollars in experiments and equipments, revolutionized the methods of cigar making.

THE TRIANGLE "A"

Merit Mark

Stands for Honest Cigar Values

Improving Cigar-Quality from 50 to 100 Per Cent.

By these new, scientific time-taking processes, cigars are now made and sold for a nickel which are better than the 10c. cigar of ten years ago.

All cigars made under these new and perfected processes of the American Cigar Company are distinguished by the "A" (Triangle A) merit mark stamped on the box.

The "A" merit mark stands for

First—Absolute freedom from "rankness" or bitterness.
Second—Absolute uniformity in quality.
Third—The smoothness, "mellowness" and fragrance of thorough blending and perfect ripeness.
Fourth—A burning quality, slow, steady and even.
Fifth—Perfect smoking-condition—if the dealer has done his part.

As an example of what "A" (Triangle A) methods have accomplished try the

New Cremo

Victoria Size—5c.

The unvarying richness, flavor and even-burning qualities of this cigar marks it as the equal of any 3-for-25c. cigar except those made under "A" (Triangle A) processes.

PACKERS LOSING FOREIGN MARKET

As Result of the Crusade Begun by the President.

Agent of the Beef Trust Tells House Committee that the Result of the Agitation Is Most Disastrous to Them.

Washington, D. C., June 7.—The house committee on agriculture continued its hearing on the Neill-Reynolds meat inspection report today. Thomas E. Wilson, manager of the Nelson Morris & Co., and representing the large Chicago packing houses, continued his remarks on the Beveridge amendment providing for meat inspection.

Aside from the objections he had pointed out yesterday, Mr. Wilson said the only other serious objection was the provision placing the cost of inspection on the packers.

"We are now under an expense aggregating $1,000,000 a year for condemnations of animals," he said.

Representative Scott suggested that it was generally understood the packers so controlled the meat market that they would be able to recoup themselves the cost of inspection.

"We could not," replied Mr. Wilson. "The large packers kill only 50 per cent of the meat supply of the country, and do not control the market.

"Out of the Note."

Representative Henry suggested that the delinquencies of the packers had placed them in their present position, and inquired why should the packers object to paying if the government is to "pull you out of the hole."

Mr. Wilson declared it was not the fault of the packers. The packers were willing to comply with any new requirements, but they feel this to be an unjust burden, and one they ought not to be called on to bear.

"What is the result on your foreign market of the present agitation?" asked Mr. Wadsworth.

"The result is very disastrous," replied the witness.

"Our foreign demand for fresh meats and manufactured product has been practically cut in two. Our foreign competitors are all making the most of this, and are getting the benefit of agitation, and we are standing the loss."

Representative Haugon, of Iowa, said it was well known that congress in the past had not made adequate appropriations for the inspection, and he wanted to know if it would not be better for the raisers and packers to pay, say 4 cents a head for the inspection of cattle and 2 cents for the inspection of hogs.

"It would be better for us to divide up all we have, I suppose, rather than go out of business," replied Mr. Wilson.

Representative Henry took Mr. Wilson over the amendment again for the recapitulation of his objections.

Statement by the Packers.

Mr. Wilson made this statement:

"We feel it is going to be a difficult matter to create laws covering the necessary sanitary regulations regarding the packing houses that will be constitutional. We feel that such a law would be useful as applied to the products when they enter into interstate trade. We do not want to raise a single question. We want a law enacted. We want a good law and a stringent one. We want the sanitary inspection, and we want it thorough.

"I do not want the impression to obtain that we contemplate any attack on any law that may be passed."

Representative Adams, of Winconsin, summed up the objections Mr. Wilson had made to the Beveridge amendment. The first was the objection to placing the cost of inspection on the packers; second, requiring dates on labels; third, the sanitary requirement which leaves discretion to common carriers to reject shipments if it regards the packing house from which they came as unsanitary; fourth, the use of adjectives describing meat unfit for food; fifth, the restriction on preservatives, in such form that any inspector might put his own interpretation on what was injurious, and sixth, the requirement that the contents of canned products shall be set forth on the label.

Representative Henry, of Connecticut, complimented Mr. Wilson for the showing he had made, saying:

"I don't think the Chicago packers made any mistake in the selection of the representative to plausibly present a somewhat dubious case."

Neill on the Stand.

Mr. Neill was then put on the stand. Mr. Scott, of Kansas, wanted to know the training Mr. Neill had previously had, to prepare him to make inquiry.

"I simply claim to be a man of average intelligience," he replied. He said he had worked in a Chicago packing house for six months in a university settlement.

"You are a specialist along economic lines?"

Mr. Neill the related a parting interview with Dr. Dyson, consulting veterinarian in Chicago, representing the packers. Dr. Dyson, he said, suggested that Neill and Reynolds go to Washington, make no report, but inform the packers of the conditions found and suggestions for remedies, then to wait thirty days and come back and see if conditions had not been bettered. This he indicated was to prevent injury to the trade.

Mr. Neill said he replied that he was not authorized to make any trade or seal that he did not know what the president's plan was, but believed it was to secure adequate legislation.

Dr. Dyson, he said, in a letter stated he was authorized to speak for the larger Chicago packers. In this letter he emphasized the damage that would result to the farmers of the country by discrediting the sanitary conditions of the packers. The letter gave assurance that the reforms would be made. Mr. Neill said he submitted these letters that the whole chapter might be complete and for the further reason that Mr. Wilson had made repeated statements that the packers would welcome legislation.

Floor Not Scrubbed.

Mr. Neill denied the statement of Mr. Wilson that the floors were scrubbed daily. The dirt on some of the rooms was caked on the floor and had not been washed for weeks.

Again Mr. Neill was asked:

"You take direct issue with Mr. Wilson on the fact that these rooms were not cleaned?"

"Yes sir I do, there were floors there black. There was no ventilation. These rooms were not 'chill' rooms."

"How about the cooking rooms," asked Mr. Lorimer.

Mr. Neill said he remembered in particular one cooking room was dirty and he remembered walls, particularly in the entrances ,that were sticky with dirt and a pillar that you could scrape dirt from with your knife. There were rooms with rafters from ceilings which had not been whitewashed in months.

In the bonding room, Mr. Neill said, he had seen dirt. In this connection he took issue with Mr. Wilson's statement yesterday. One instance he remebered specifically in the Nelson Morris house. He saw one of the men who had just finished his boning walk over the dirty floor to a pile of meat on the floor, climb on the pile with his feet, knees and hands, pick up a piece and throw it fifteen feet on the floor to his bench and as the dinner signal sounded at that time, he saw men climb upon their tables, get their lunches and sit down on their tables to eat. This, he said, was directly under the eye of the superintendents.

Mr. Neill said the papers heralded the arrival in Chicago and their presence in the packing houses was known daily.

Meat in Rotten Boxes.

Chairman Wadsworth took up the statement in the report: "We saw meat shoveled from dirty floors into rotten boxes and pushed from room to room.

"How do you know they were rotten? Did you test them?"

"We felt them and smelt them. There are floors there," he continued, "which all the seas could not wash the dirt from."

Mr. Neill denied that the unventilated rooms applied to the cold storage rooms, as indicated yesterday by Mr. Wilson.

When questioned by Representative Scott as to what he meant by "the odor of decayed meats" in his report, in view of the statement of Mr. Wilson that from a business proposition decayed meats could not be left around.

"It was certainly an odor of decayed meat," persisted Mr. Neill.

"It may have been from the rotten meat soaked wood."

This sentence in the report was read and questions asked:

"In a word, we saw meat shoveled from filthy wooden floors piled on tables rarely washed from room to room in rotten box carts, in all of which processes it was in the way of gathering dirt, splinters, floor filth and the expectoration of tuberculosis, and other disease workers."

"How do you know it was tuberculosis expectoration?" asked Chairman Wadsworth.

"I thought so," answered Mr. Neill. Then amplifying he said he saw men there whom he believed were tubercular.

The Hog in the Privy.

The slipping of a hog into a privy was made the subject of a colloquy between the witness and representative Brooks, of Colorado.

Mr. Neill said he saw the pig fall and identified a picture of the privy. It was a very filthy one; the hog was put up on the rack and he believed the hog was never cleaned.

At this pont, Mr. Wilson was allowed to state that there were men scraping and cleaning these hogs and that none were allowed in the boiling room that were not perfectly clean.

"This was not a case for scraping, it was one for cleaning with an antiseptic fluid," replied Mr. Neill.

Chairman Wadsworth persisted that this hog case contained the essence of the whole report. The statement was positively made in the report that the hog was not cleaned, he said, when as a matter of fact Mr. Neill had admitted he had not followed the hog to ascertain absolutely the fact he had stated.

Going back to the statement regarding the tuberculosis spittle on the floor, Mr. Wadsworth said: "You say other diseased persons also? What other diseases?"

"I am not willing to state."

"Well, doctor," said Mr. Lorimer. "You have made these statements to the world in a report which the president has sent to us, and which has done incalculable injury to this industry, and we want to know the facts."

"I have made this report, and am willing to stand on it," replied Mr. Neill.

Men Smelled of Medicine.

"There were smells of medicine on the men that you get in dispensaries for certain diseases."

Mr. Neill here asked to make a statement. It was six weeks ago that he was there. He saw hundreds of things that did not go into his report. As to the rubbish that went into the meat he did not specify "rubbish, a nail; rubbish, a piece of rope."

"I saw rubbish go into the meat, and said so." As to tuberculosis, he had made observations, and also had interviewed physicians who had told him the work tended to produce that disease.

As to the tendency of the work in the packing houses to lower the morals, Mr. Neill said he believed this was the case. "An instance," he said, "a young girl sixteen or seventeen years old had to walk across a long room filled with men to go into a water closet—this does not tend to morality, especially when some of those men are of the lowest type—I will not say the workers are immoral."

Neill's Treatment as Witness.

When Mr. Lorimer asked the witness if he had any complaint to make as to his treatment as a witness, he replied that the treatment of the witness on yesterday by certain members of the committee and the treatment of himself today by these members was strikingly different, and especially when the testimony of Mr. Wilson tended to raise a direct question of veracity between himself and Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Wilson.

"That's just what I think, too," asserted Representative Lamb, of Virginia, warmly.

At this point Mr. Henry, of Connecticut, declared that this report came directly from the president. The president was responsible for it, and stood sponsor for it. In view of that it was, he believed, highly discourteous to question it.

Mr. Neill commended the government inspection, but would not commit himself on the state inspection.

Every suggestion made to correct the "absolutely brutal indifference" with which the employees and especially the young girls were treated, was met by the statement, "Oh, they don't mind that."

The committee adjourned until tomorrow.

OBJECT OF THIS CORPORATION.

There has never been in the history of Atlanta such a heavy demand for homes. People are coming here from all sections of America. There is also a fine demand for well-situated vacant lots. A number of large enterprises are being projected for Atlanta which will add largely to our population and bring several millions of dollars here for investment.

Atlanta Real Estate, well and carefully bought, is today the best investment any one can make. This syndicate will buy lots, improve them and sell homes for cash or on installments. First class subdivisions of property will be handled on the best plan, promising the greatest amount of profit to the syndicate. It is proposed to take advantage of the great prosperity now surrounding us and working on aggressive lines, making every dollar that can possibly be produced for those interested. We have the opportunity to make this one of the most important and profitable enterprises in Atlanta.

AGGREGATION OF CAPITAL.

By getting together a very considerable sum of money for the purpose of making investments, especially in real estate, advantage can be taken of the conditions referred to above and a larger profit made on transactions than can be made by individual investors.

PURCHASE OF REAL ESTATE.

Real Estate will be bought for the syndicate by men of wide experience, upon the approval of a committee from the board of directors appointed for the purpose of directing all investments. This is a very important committee and men of high order of ability will be placed upon it.

HOW PROPERTY WILL BE SOLD.

Property belonging to the syndicate will be carefully valued by a real estate committee and prices fixed by that committee. Where subdivisions are being handled expert service will be furnished so that the interests of the syndicate will always be protected. Special arrangements will be made by the board of directors to provide for the handling of all property of the syndicate in the most aggressive manner and by the best and most up-to-date methods.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS.

The stockholders will select men as directors of this syndicate who are capable of making it one of the most highly successful enterprises ever organized in Atlanta. They will be business men of wide experience and conspicuous for their ability. The directors will elect from among themselves the men best fitted to fill the several official positions of the syndicate.

EXPENSE OF MANAGEMENT.

This important matter will be greatly simplified by the suggestion that we do not have any salaried officials. This idea has met with the approval of a great many and certainly there will be no salaries paid to officials until the stockholders have been cared for by good profits. The most rigid economy will be exercised in every direction and there can be no expense of any consequence upon the plan proposed.

SHARES; HOW PAYABLE.

Our charter provides for a capital of $250,000, but it also provides that we may commence business as soon as $50,000 capital has been procured. Stock will be in two classes, as follows: Class A, payable ten (10) per cent on demand and five (5) per cent each month thereafter until fully paid; Class B, payable, the whole amount subscribed on demand. This puts the stock in reach of every one.

DIVISION OF PROFITS.

Under proper management and with no expense of any consequence the syndicate will be in position to make money for the stockholders from the very beginning. It will be practically a partnership of all interested and the profits will be divided as often as it is deemed wise to do so.

REAL ESTATE. CASH.

It is the predominating wish of every one interested to make money for the syndicate and the plan proposed makes it an absolutely safe investment. It will be operated aggressively and every energy will be put forth to accomplish fine results. Whenever an accounting is made we will have very valuable real estate on hand and cash for the protection of our stockholders; no assets that are not readily convertible.

A Limited Amount of Stock Will Be Sold Upon the Plan Proposed, and Books of Subscription Will Soon Be Opened

Market-Makers in Georgia.

In emphasizing the natural commercial and agricultural advantages that put Georgia in the forefront of the southern states bidding for substantial additions to their population the factor of cotton milling and the finding of remunerative markets for the outputs of the state's factories is one of the most important in the problem of development. Commenting on this phase, The Constitution has, on innumerable occasions, drawn attention to the conditions controlling the Oriental markets. It has shown, by reference to the routine consular reports, articles by special agents of the government and communications from commercial travelers to whom foreign industrial conditions are an open book, that the mills of the south as well as those of the nation could never hope to reap the full benefit of their advantages until they adopted wide-awake methods of cultivating all the markets of civilization, regardless of location or of competition already established.

A recent extensive report from Manchester, England, accentuated the fact that the American mills had concentrated their efforts on the Far East, ignoring other portions of Asia. The writer demonstrated how the British spinners had profited by this laxity on part of our operators, in the creation of a large and profitable trade in the regions thus neglected.

It is, therefore, extremely gratifying to observe indications that the mill-owners of Georgia are fully alert to the possibilities in a symmetrical development of all foreign markets. A recent bulletin of the department of commerce and labor shows that they are more than passively vigilant. In the case of the Enterprise Manufacturing Company and other cotton mills of Augusta, Ga., they have sent out well-equipped representatives to Constantinople and other Asiatic points, to advertise the products of Georgia looms and spindles at first hand. The bulletin, relating the story of an observant machinery agent to The Charlotte (N. C.) Observer, thus describes this exhibition of Georgia initiative and its fruits:

There were piles and piles of goods heaped everywhere, all bearing strange addresses, some being marked to Smyrna, some to Beirut, some to Constantinople, and others to unheard-of cities of Asia and Asia Minor. Nothing was consigned to the Far East, the present foreign market of American cotton goods. But there were stacks of cases ready to be shipped to Asiatic Turkey, a market which heretofore has been largely controlled by the English and continental mills.

A very interesting story was told of how this had come about. Three years ago the Enterprise, with one or two other Augusta mills, sent a representative over to Constantinople for the purpose of advertising their goods. This representative carried with him some 3,600 head ends, each bearing the address of the producing mill. These he carried to the jobbers in all Turkish cities. This agent explained the superior quality of the goods, spoke of the importance of the American factories and asked that samples be kept for future reference.

Being a jolly good fellow, efficient and up-to-date in his work, this representative made a fine impression upon the jobbers, who did not fail to speak to the smaller commission men about the Augusta mills. In the course of a short time orders came to the Enterprise and other mills for one and two cases each of sheetings and drills, to be shipped clear to Asia Minor. These orders were carefully looked after, and were shipped with the proper expedition. On each piece of goods sent over the name of the mill was printed and full particulars were given, showing how similar goods might be ordered. This was done so that the smaller merchants might order direct from America and thus save the middleman's profit. After the first small shipments were received and inspected the Turkish jobbers duplicated their orders, doubling and in many cases quadrupling their size. This continued until now the Enterprise, as well as the other mills in the association, sell most of their goods to Turkey.

Sight drafts on a London bank are attached to the bills of lading and are forwarded with the shipment. This expedites the payment, which seldom requires more than twenty days. The process, too, is absolutely safe. The commission merchant's usual 4 per cent, together with the discount and other fees, are thus saved, and there is a profit on every hand. The orders are frequently very large. Some time ago an order was received for 10,500 cases of sheetings and drills. The output of the mills is said to be sold for a year ahead.

It seems to The Constitution that other mills in Georgia can emulate the example of these Augusta factories. Their activities need not, moreover, be confined to Asia nor to the channels occupied by these enterprising Georgians. Much attention can be paid to a personal study of the specific needs of all foreign cotton markets, with the view to giving the consumers exactly what they want. The failure, heretofore, to adapt the goods shipped to the particular local preferences of the territory invaded has been represented as helping to explain British supremacy over American products. The expense invested in the concrete instance has been proved to be amply rewarded, and there is no reason why similar energy, directed intelligently in other directions, should not be equally remunerative.

Georgia is the second cotton-producing state in the nation. Water power and the cheapness and accessibility of fuel for steam plants are such obvious incentives to the creation of a tremendous cotton manufacturing industry that this state should begin now to anticipate the day when the bulk of the fiber grown within her borders will leave our ports in the shape of manufactured goods The immense increase in cotton mill construction is a significant pointer in this direction. Another equally eloquent with meaning is the eagerness of capital to erect other factories as soon as there is definite guarantee of labor to operate their machinery.

While we are working diligently for the remedying of this labor deficiency, we should bear in mind that it is essentially only a temporary obstacle. So that the movement that seeks to reach new markets and to appeal to established ones with greater effectiveness is by no means premature.

The Rate Bill in Conference.

It will be gratifying intelligence to friends of a bona fide rate bill to learn from Washington that the measure as reported from the conference committee has been emasculated in no particular, but rather strengthened in some minor details. It is stated that the fifty-one amendments made by the senate, some of which are of great importance, have been revised with extreme care, as was necessary, notwithstanding the elaborate consideration given by the senate. Most of the changes made in conference are said to be of a detailed and technical character, needful to harmonize the measure and secure simplicity and accuracy of phrase.

Although the original Hepburn bill was amended almost completely beyond the recognition of its author, the measure as returned to the house retained the vital feature empowering the interstate commerce commission to fix the rates, and the process of court review will not entail the delays of the old system. It is stated that the senate amendments concerning express companies, oil lines, commodities and penalties have been actually perfected and strengthened.

As the bill leaves the hands of the conferees it is reported to be greatly improved technically and considerably strengthened otherwise, notably with reference to the free pass prohibition. Complaint was made that the pass amendment as it passed the senate was drawn so loosely and with so many exceptions as largely to multiply its effect in practice. The conference committee substituted a sweeping prohibition of the giving or issuance, or the solicitation, acceptance or use of free transportation by any person for himself or another, and providing severe penalties for violations.

It is generally believed in Washington that the measure as reported from the conference committee will be accepted by house and senate without material amendment or quibbling. As the law will go upon the statute books it will be a decided improvement over former conditions, although it may not be all that it was hoped it would be.

LETTERS FROM PEOPLE.

St. Luke's Church.

Editor Constitution: It is with pride and pleasure that I am about to witness the laying of the cornerstone of St. Luke's church, having been one of the early communicants of this church.

Soon after the civil war St. Luke's church was known as St. Stephen's chapel, with Rev. Cross as minister in charge.

The congregation occupied the second floor of the Masonic building, on the corner of Forsyth and Walton streets, over the orphans' school, conducted by Mrs. E. Y. Hill, the celebrated author of Mrs. Hill's Cook Book, and the Georgia state lottery, which was conducted in conjunction with this school. This building was also occupied by The Post-Appeal, an afternoon paper, owned by Marcellus Thornton.

Rev. Mr. Cross did not remain long in Atlanta, and on his removal to the interior of Texas, lost his entire family of yellow fever. I am informed Mr. Cross was succeeded by Rev. Mr. George McCauley, whose gentle ministration and faithfully performed duties in the parish did much to put a new impetus in the church work.

The choir of St. Stephen's was composed of Mrs. Edward Murray, John Thompson, basso; Mr. Thompson, tenor, and Miss Florence Root, soprano. This modest little church had a hard struggle and after some years its name was changed to St. Luke's. The spirit of St. Stephen's church was quickened and the congregation that was once an humble little company, are now about to erect a splendid edifice on Peachtree street to be known as St. Luke's church.

Pessimistic Report on Cotton.

Editor Constitution: Our people are very much surprised at President Harvie Jordan's report on the prospect of cotton. Now we will not differ with Mr. Jordan as to increase of acreage, but I feel that Mr. Jordan's information is incorrect, or his judgment is at fault sure. There was never a poorer prospect in this country than today—poor stands, plants very small, grassy and labor very scarce. There are hundreds of acres that are to be chopped. We have planted over and replanted until it is the most uneven stand that any one ever saw. The cotton throughout this section of the country is twenty days late at least. It is the next thing to an impossibility to make anything like a crop. Just at this time we can see nothing like as good a prospect as last year.

If President Jordan will travel through the country he will not think the cotton prospects will be so good. Yours for good,

M. M. LAWSON.

Dalton Claims Cotton Leadership.

Editor Constitution: Below is presented some comparative statistics of the population, area and cotton production in 1905 of the counties in Georgia, making over 30,000 bales each. While Walton county is not the banner county in aggregate bales by a little figuring it will appear it is leading county when area is considered.

This is not offered in a boastful spirit, or made an envious comparison, but an official recorded fact in which all our people feel a local and pardonable pride:

Counties	Population, 1900.	Present area, square mi.	Bales, 500 lbs
Burke	25,000	883	38,456
Walton	20,942	366	33,638
Coweta	24,980	433	32,999
Jackson	24,039	460	32,469
Morgan	15,813	346	31,613
Carroll	26,576	486	31,491

Located off the grand trunk lines of railway and touched only by leading railway systems of the state at extreme points, this method is taken of advertising our progress and particular rating.

Monroe, Ga.

GOSSIP AT THE CAPITOL

By means of a certificate signed by Clerk Z. D. Harrison, of the Georgia supreme court, Governor Terrell was on yesterday officially notified that Associate Justice Andrew J. Cobb and J. H. Lumpkin were disqualified to preside in the case of Greene county and other counties and municipalities against the Georgia Railroad and Banking Company, which is set down for hearing on June 15.

Under the provisions of the constitution of Georgia the governor is authorized, in cases in which any of the justices are disqualified to sit, to appoint judges of the superior court to preside instead of the disqualified justices, upon the certification of that fact to him by the court. Governor Terrell has not yet appointed the two superior court judges who will preside in the places of Justices Cobb and Lumpkin, and will not do so for a number of days.

The case to be determined is that in which Greene and other counties and towns traversed by the Georgia railroad seek to obtain what they claim as their pro rata of the $500,000 back taxes recently decided by the supreme court to be due by that corporation on 15,000 shares of Western of Alabama railway stock. Judge Pendleton, of Fulton superior court, decided that the situs of the stock was in Richmond county and the city of Augusta, and that that county and city was entitled to the sum recovered from the corporation. From this decision the several counties and towns claiming a share of the tax fund appealed to the supreme court.

Atlanta Men Get Reward.

A warrant on the state treasurer for $150 was on yesterday issued in favor of R. A. Wood and W. A. Chuning, members of the Atlanta police force, as a reward for the capture and conviction of Thomas Newman and C. H. Clark, two yeggmen, who were recently arrested in Atlanta and subsequently tried and convicted at Forsyth, Monroe county, for burglarizing the store and safe of the Trio Manufacturing Company, of that place, each of the crooks being sentenced to a twen-year term in the penitentiary.

The Atlanta police officers captured the two men some months ago in a raid on the Cannon hotel, where they found a number of crippled hoboes and professional mendicants herded together in two rooms.

THE PASSING THRONG.

Hon. F. B. Doyle, chairman of the democratic executive committee of Hart county, was in the city on yesterday shaking hands with his Atlanta friends. Mr. Doyle is one of the most prominent and popular citizens of Hartwell, and reports great prosperity among the people of his section of the state. He has a number of personal friends in Atlanta, by whom he is being entertained during his stay in the city.

Hon. Joseph B. Cumming, of Augusta, one of the leading members of the southern bar, is at the Piedmont. Few Georgians are more widely known and more appreciated than Major Cumming. He will be in the city two or three days.

M. L. Kelly, of Louisville, is at the Kimball. Mr. Kelly has been on the road for twent years past representing the same Kentucky distillery, one of the oldest in the state. He comes to Atlanta three and four times every year, and has many friends not only in the Gate City, but throughout the state, who are always glad to welcome him.

C. Henry Cohen, of Augusta, is at the Piedmont. Mr. Cohen will be in the city two or three days.

M. C. Edwards, of Valdosta, one of the leading real estate men of that section of Georgia, is at the Aragon.

Daniel deB. Falls is at the Kimball. Mr. Falls, a Charlestonian by birth and a successful business man of that city by the sea, is en route home from Cuba, where he has been for six weeks past on a tour of observation and inspection.

Captain J. P. Williams and Mrs. Williams, of Savannah, reached Atlanta yesterday morning, and are at the Piedmont.

Clearance H. K. Gleason, of Omaha, is at the Kimball. Mr. Gleason is a member of one of the largest and most successful wholesale grocery houses of that section of the west, and dropped off in Atlanta for a few days' rest and observation before reaching New Orleans, where he has business engagements awaiting his coming.

Rev. Albert W. Stanley and Mrs. Stanley, of Marietta, are in the city. They have apartments at the Piedmont.

"A week ago I witnessed a most determined and pronounced attempt at self-murder," remarked J. H. Kilpatrick, an Atlanta traveling man yesterday. "I had been doing that horseshoe bend down in Mexico, where we sell lots and lots of machinery to that fruit-growing section, that section from which we get bananas, pineapples and oranges by the ship load. Saturday last, one week ago, I left Campeche on a slow moving vessel for New Orleans. It was loaded with pineapples and bananas, and beside myself there were three passengers aboard. Sunday afternoon, as I was enjoying myself on deck with a cigar and a good book, my attention was diverted from both by an unusual commotion about me. It was enough to cause me to cease reading and look around. Quickly I discovered a man had gone overboard on the other side of the vessel. Out of curiosity, I might say, I raced over just in time to see a half-dozen men in a small boat lift a fellow out of the waters. He appeared to be struggling with those who had him in hand, but of this I thought nothing at the time. Watching the boat return to the ship, I saw he man who had been drawn from the waters rise upon his feet, give himself a shake like a dog as he comes from a bath, and leap into the waters. Instantly the men in the boat dropped their oars, and a second later as the man came to the surface one of the crew sprang at him. As he went I noticed a rope in this hand, but of this I thought nothing at the time. He caught the fellow who jumped into the water, and then I saw a struggle between two strong men few persons have looked upon. One appeared to be trying to go down and pull the other with him, while the other seemed to be trying to do a rescue work. In the meantime the men in the boat were pulling on that rope, and within a few minutes both men were landed, and within no time the boat was on the vessel again. It was then I learned that the man who had been rescued had made two efforts that day to find a grave in the waters of the gulf. He was placed in confinement and when we reached New Orleans was surrendered to the river police. If I had ever been tempted in my life to commit suicide, that struggle in the waters of the gulf would have been enough to knock silly all such temptations. No, the fellow gave no explanation. In fact, he refused to answer any question the officers of the boat put to him."

EARLY COUNTY GETS IN LINE FOR HOWELL

Enthusiastic Receptions Given the Candidate at Blakely and Arlington.

PEOPLE NOT FOOLED BY THE FRAUD ISSUES

"Disfranchisement" Fraud Especially Obnoxious to the Democrats of Early—Leading Men of the County Ate for Howell.

BY FRED LEWIS.

Blakely, Ga., June 7.—(Special.)—The splendid receptions given Clark Howell here this morning and at Arlington this afternoon make it manifest that Early county proposes to repudiate the campaign of vituperation, abuse and appeal to passion and prejudice which is now being made throughout Georgia.

Both here and at Arlington he was met and welcomed by large delegations of friends, comprising many of the most prominent citizens in all the walks of life in these two enterprising Early county communities. These friends, all without hesitation, brought the same report that accessions to the Howell ranks within the last two weeks have been so frequent and numerous as to warrant the belief that they will give the county to Howell by a large majority. They are at work, and results have followed their efforts sure and swift as the people are becoming educated to the true inwardness of the campaign which seeks to build itself upon the wreck of everything and everybody which comes in its way.

Howell Will Carry Early.

The defection from this sort of campaign in Early county has been sweeping within the last few weeks, and the friends of Mr. Howell have gained that strong confidence which prompts the assertion, "We are going to make this county ours." They point proudly to the fact that Representative W. A. Buchanan and other officials of the county went before the people of Early in the recent primary with the open avowal that they were supporters of Clark Howell, and won over their opponents by large majorities.

It was a large and representative delegation that met Mr. Howell upon his arrival at Blakely—men who stand foremost in the community and whose word and influence carry great weight in the affairs of the county. In this delegation, all of whom are stauch and earnest friends of Mr. Howell, were such men as D. W. James, president of the Bank of Blakely; J. H. Flowers, vice president, and J. C. Haines, secretary and treasurer of the Flowers Lumber Company; Representative W. A. Buchanan, Judge W. A. Jordan and Solicitor Walter G. Park, of the city court; Arthur G. Powell, lawyer; D. B. Sherman, lumberman; J. R. Pottle, lawyer; Dr. T. S. Oliver, P. W. Derrick, merchant; D. D. Strong, farmer; W. J. Jordan, farmer; W. A. Hall, merchant; Simon Blue, lawyer; Arthur Roberts, farmer; Idus Fields, farmer and lumberman; T. J. Howell, merchant; Walter Hyde, merchant; J. D. James, merchant; Grady Smith, banker; Walter Thomas, merchant; J. S. Toole, J. F. county school commissioner; J. A. McLaurin and J. S. Mills, naval stores merchants, and many others of like prominence in the community.

Many other well-known citizens came to the Hotel Thomas to meet Mr. Howell and on every side he received warm assurances of friendship and supporters.

Large Crowd in Handsome Court House.

Mr. Howell spoke in the court room of Early county's new court house at 11 o'clock. This court house has just been completed and paid for, the cost being about $70,000, and it is perhaps the handsomest, most modern and substatial buildings of its kind in all south Georgia. The court room here is one of the largest in Georgia, perhaps there is none with a greater seating capacity. This court room was well filled with representative citizens from all parts of the county, many coming in, even though this is the farmer's busiest season, solely for the purpose of meeting Mr. Howell and hearing his address. It was a splendid Early county audience, and what is more, it was an enthusiastic Howell audience.

W. Z. T. Bridges, a well-known citizen and a prominent merchant, was chosen to preside over the meeting and he briefly presented D. W. James one of Early's strongest and most advanced citizens, who introduced Mr. Howell to his audience. Mr. James referred to the fact that Mr. Howell is well known, not only in Georgia, but throughout the south. He spoke of the honors which had been bestowed upon him by the people of his county and his district, and following these his election as speaker of the house and then as president of the senate. In these positions Mr. Howell had made a record, he said, which had stood the strongest of all tests, and yet no smallest feature of it had been found to be in conflict with the interests of the people.

Mr. James also referred to the disfranchisement fraud, which he said would never be indorsed by the people of Early county.

Great Applause Greets Howell.

Great applause greeted Mr. Howell as he faced his audience and began his address. It was a generous greeting given him by this Early county audience, and as he discussed in strong and forceful terms the railroad question, the disfranchisement fraud and other questions and issues of the campaign, this general applause was frequently repeated, showing his audience was with him in the views and sentiments which he expressed. Mr. Howell also interested and amused his hearers with some facts about the record of Hoke Smith, showing the inconsistent attitude of Mr. Smith regarding practically every question now before the people.

The audience was enthusiastic in the reception of Mr. Howell's speech, and at every point seemed in thorough accord with his views. He was loudly applauded and cheered as he contcluded his address, and citizens from every section of the county came from the audience and crowded around him to congratulate him, and to pin the ever-increasing army of Howell supporters in old Early.

Mr. Howell reached Arlington at 4 o'clock this afternoon, after a three hours' drive through the country, and found the local reception committee awaiting him at the hotel. Arlington is just on the border line between Early and Calhoun, and many voters from both counties were here for the occasion. Here again Mr. Howell received an enthusiastic and cordial reception, and was shown that he was among his friends.

Reception at Arlington.

Among the members of the reception committee which met him upon his arrival at Arlington were the following prominent citizens: L. M. Rambo, lawyer; J. W. Calhoun, planter; C. C. Martin, manager oil mill; J. D. Lee, superintendent electric plant; H. M. Calhoun, lawyer; L. W. Riley, farmer; J. E. Toole, merchant; W. W. Mansfield farmer; S. T. Nance, farmer; C. L. Smith, farmer, representative; A. B. McCaskell, contractor; G. L. Collins, planter and lumberman, representative, E. L. Smith, of Calhoun, and several others.

The time for Mr. Howell's address had been fixed at 4 o'clock and Mr. Howell went at once from the hotel to the Arlington skating rink, which had been supplied with benches and chairs for the occasion. Here one of the largest audiences ever assembled in Arlington greeted and received him with generous applause following the brief introduction by Hon. H. M. Calhoun, one of Arlington's best known citizens.

Mr. Calhoun introduced Mr. Howell as one of Georgia's distinguished sons, "Georgia's next governor, who, in my opinion, represents the true and tried democratic principals."

Mr. Howell spoke for nearly an hour and a half, discussing all phases of the various questions and issues involved in the campaign, and winning the frequent applause of his hearers, and given an approval of his strong stand for Georgia and for Georgians.

Generous Applause.

This audience, comprising some three hundred citizens of the two counties, again gave him its generous applause at the conclusion of his address. Mr. Howell met here at Arlington many of the leading citizens of Early and Calhoun counties, who assured him they were with him in the fight, and would lend their every effort to the success of his campaign. Many of these were men who have heretofore stood for other candidates, or who had not until now expressed themselves. Calhoun county, according to the report brought here from Edison and other points, is growing more strongly for Howell every day. Mr. Howell's friends here save all along counted Calhoun in his column, but they are more confident now than ever that the county will roll up a large majority for him on the day of the primary.

HELD FOR COUNTERFEITING.

Plaster of Paris and Tinfoil Found in Negro's House.

Columbus, Ga., June 7.—(Special.)—Will Finley, a negro, was placed in jail here today in default of $2,000 bond, charged with making counterfeit metal dollars. In his house were found quantities of plaster of paris and tinfoil. Finley has been working in a candy factory here in which plaster of paris moulds are used in shaping pieces of candy. Finley was arrested after a search, and after he had attempted to escape by Captain J. M. Wright, of Atlanta, secret service agent, assisted by local officers. Finley's mother was placed in jail Wednesday, charged with passing counterfeit money.

MARBLE RATES QUOTED BY ATLANTA JOURNAL ARE PURE INVENTIONS

So Declares Commissioner Brown, Who Says Commission Disowns "Bantling"--Rates Not Only Invented but Some Marble Quarries Also.

Office of the Railroad Commission of Georgia, Atlanta, June 5, 1906.—To the People of Georgia: The Atlanta Journal, in its efforts to bolster up its attack upon the railroad commission of Georgia, published, in display type, May 25, what it said were "rates (on marble) fixed by the Georgia railroad commission from Georgia quarries, i. e., Blue Ridge, Ga.," its figures being as follows, in cents, per 100 pounds:

To Bainbridge, Ga., 51; to Brunswick, Ga., 42; to Fitzgerald, Ga., 47; to Quitman, Ga., 51; to Savannah, Ga., 42; to Tifton, Ga., 45; to Thomasville, Ga., 49; to Valdosta, Ga., 48.5; to Waycross, Ga., 48.

The railroad commission of Georgia disowns the bantling. The rates in question are The Atlanta Journal's baby, not ours. And let me say that The Atlanta Journal has not only invented some rates on marble to charge to the discredit of the railroad commission of Georgia, but it has daringly trenched upon power of the Most High, and has created some "Georgia quarries" from which to make these "excessive freight rates" for which it must hold the railroad commission in the glare of condemnation. These "Georgia quarries" it locates at Blue Ridge, Ga., a station on the Louisville and Nashville railroad, 41 miles north of Tate, Ga., where the "Georgia quarries" really are. With specious art The Atlanta Journal takes the name of the Blue Ridge Marble Company, whose works are located at Nelson, Ga., 2 miles south of Tate, and applies it to the station Blue Ridge, Ga., and seeks to deceive the people into the belief that the works are at a quarry and the quarry at Blue Ridge, Ga.

But from one attempt to deceive it leaps to another, for even the rates it names as being "fixed by the Georgia railroad commission" are not correct, if there were any "Georgia quarries" at Blue Ridge, Ga. That self-advertised railroad rate expert went away from the fact that these rates on marble are made by combining the local rate of the Louisville and Nashville railroad from the quarries to Atlanta with the rates beyond, and, instead, based them on the combined locals of the Louisville and Nashville and Western and Atlantic railroads from the quarries to Atlanta. That combination which the railroad commission's rules broke up more than a year ago when the Louisville and Nashville trains began running through to Atlanta, The Atlanta Journal revives because it enables it to thereby publish higher figures with which to attack the railroad commission—figures which to some police work out, nearly $20 per car more than the "rates fixed by the railroad commission of Georgia."

The people of Georgia can therefore see to what depths that paper is willing to sink itself in its assaults upon their railroad commission. And that the people may know that the charge made in the editorial columns of that paper, May 25, was not a sporadic one, The Atlanta Journal returns to its vomit June 2, naming specifically its former rates "from Blue Ridge" to Bainbridge, Brunswick and Quitman, saying in black, capital letters that the "RAILROAD COMMISSION PERMITS" the roads to charge a rate of 51 cents per 100 pounds from Blue Ridge, in north Georgia, to Bainbridge. This is 5 cents per 100 pounds higher than the rate the "railroad commission permits" from this fictitious quarry! And its rates to Quitman are 6 cents per 100 pounds higher than we would "permit," and to Brunswick 9 cents per 100 pounds higher.

The Atlanta Journal has published many silly statements about the railroad commission of Georgia within the past year, but if there has been another one of the number which was so absolutely disreputable as that herein exposed I confess I have failed to see it.

That paper has also published many other fictitious rates which it says were "fixed by the railroad commission of Georgia." I will show up that attempted fraud later. In the meantime, I will remark that the marble rates from the Burlington, Vermont, group of towns to Savannah and Brunswick, which The Atlanta Journal takes as its text, are based on the all-water rate from Burlington to Savannah. I will show that our old familiar friend, the "port rate" hoax, is led into the ring here; but as he puts his tail over the dashboard in true disturbing a manner The Atlanta Journal wants to unhitch him and take him out in this case.

Since writing the above my attention has been called to statements alleged to have been made by me to Mr. J. B. Roberts about marble rates, published June 1 in The Atlanta Journal, while I was absent from the city, and as usual The Journal has grossly exaggerated. I will give the facts later. Respectfully,

JOSEPH M. BROWN,
Commissioner.

PEACH GROWERS APPOINT AGENTS

Walter Hawkins Made Distribution Manager.

Will See To Icing Cars and Guard Against Congestion — Headquarters Will Be in Macon, Later in Atlanta.

Walter Hawkins, who for several years was general agent for the Central of Georgia railway, with headquarters at Jacksonville, Fla., and is at this time general agent for the Consolidated Fruit Company, Jacksonville-Miami, Fla., has been appointed by the peach growers of Georgia, manager, in charge of distribution, icing and transportation, with headquarters in Macon, Ga., the first part of the season, and Atlanta, Ga., the latter part of the season.

Mr. Hawkins will especially guard against various markets in the east and west, becoming glutted with peaches, and another very important feature of the duties involved will be to look well after the icing of cars en route, as well as transportation of same, and see that a thorough examination is made of the contents upon arrival of destination.

Much has been said about Georgia having an unusually large crop of peaches this season, but the committee, having the work of organization, which developed in the appointment of Mr. Hawkins and the establishment of a central agency office have practically completed their work, and it was the opinion among them today that as a result of two severe freezes this spring and the fruit dropping from the trees to an unusual extent, that the crop of 1906 is now conservatively estimated at about 4,000 carloads, even less than the crop of 1904, when there was about 4,500 cars shipped from the state.

Mr. Hawkins is thoroughly equipped for this work. His record as a successful transportation man and fruit man warrants the peach growers of Georgia in feeling that their interests are safe in his hands.

Mr. Hawkins will open a central agency office on Monday, June 11, in Macon, Ga., where he can be found or communicated with.

BIG BLAZE AT HOPKINSVILLE

$100,000 Damage Done in Kentucky City Yesterday Morning.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 7.—Fire this morning caused a property loss of $100,000, partially covered by insurance. The fire originated in the Wheeler tobacco warehouse, which contained two hundred hogsheads besides three hundred thousand pounds of loose tobacco. The warehouse was completely destroyed only a few hogsheads of tobacco being saved. The plant of the Consumers Ice Company, along with a residence office and stables were also burned. The gas plant nearby and the Louisville and Nashville depot were only saved by heroic work. A stiff south wind was blowing at the time.

WRECK VICTIMS ARE DOING WELL

No Deaths From Injuries Yesterday.

While Several Names Were Added to the List of Injured Yesterday, Some of Those in the Hospitals Were Able To Be Sent Home.

All the persons injured in the wreck between passenger train No. 15, of the Central of Georgia, and the Pearl Springs picnic special, of the West Point, which occurred Wednesday night at the West Fair street crossing, were doing well yesterday, and although a few names of the injured have been added, the list of casualties has not been materially increased. There have been no further deaths, and it is not believed that any of the injuries will result fatally.

Among the names added to the list of injured yesterday was that of James Carroll, one of The Constitution's traveling men, who was hurt internally. Mr. Carroll was in the smoker of the West Point train. Mrs. J. M. Blair was also injured in the accident.

Injured Leave Hospital.

Miss Nellie Ward, who sustained a broken leg, and her brother, J. S. Ward, who were both taken to the Grady hospital immediately after the wreck, were both doing so well yesterday that it was deemed advisable to remove them to their home, where they were taken yesterday morning. Howard Oliver, who was also taken to the Grady, was doing well yesterday.

Miss Luella Lancaster, another victim of the wreck, was taken to the Tabernacle infirmary, where she was yesterday reported as doing nicely and her recovery is looked for in a short time.

Miss Rosa Ham was probably the most seriously injured of any in the wreck. She was taken to the home of her companion, Miss Charley King, at 35 Sells avenue, where she is now being tenderly nursed. Although her condition is serious, it is not necessarily very dangerous. She was injured internally, being thrown violently against the side of one of the coaches on the platform of which she was standing at the time of the accident. Her friend, Miss King, who was badly cut and bruised, is doing as well as could be expected.

Investigations Now On.

The authorities of the West Point and Central of Georgia railroads have not yet held a complete investigation and were not prepared yesterday to give out any official report of the wreck. It was stated by an official of the West Point road that a joint investigation will be held, probably this afternoon, at which time the blame for the accident will be placed. If the investigation cannot be arranged for this afternoon it will be deferred until tomorrow. It has been charged that Flagman Dillard, of the West Point train, is responsible for the accident in failing to warn the Central train that its track was blocked by the picnic train, but he denies this.

It was htated yesterday by an official of the Central railroad that in his judgment the Central could not be held liable for the wreck and that it was wholly due to the alleged neglect of the West Point flagman. Nothing final could be given out, however, as a full investigation has not yet been held.

General Passenger Agent Haile, of the Central railroad, was in the city yesterday, but it is not known whether he was called here as the result of the wreck.

ERECTING FINE BUILDING.

Work Has Been Started on the Richards Company's New Warehouse.

Work has just been begun on the grading and excavating for the new warehouse of the S. P. Richards Company, Nos. 90, 92 and 94 Central avenue, between Hunter and Mitchell streets. This is another of the many improvements which are being made in this immediate section of the city, work on the new Louisville and Nashville freight terminals and the Washington street viaduct having already been started, the new No. 2 engine house just having been completed, and the new warehouse of Nunnally Brothers being in course of construction.

The Richards Company building is to be a handsome structure, four stories high, fitted with automatic fire sprinklers, steam heat and every other modern convenience. R. H. Carpenter, the architect, has just completed his plans.

GATHER TODAY TO ORGANIZE

Exposition Committee of Fifty Will Meet This Afternoon.

The exposition committee of fifty will meet this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the chamber of commerce. The committee was to have met yesterday afternoon but the meeting was postponed on account of a death in the family of John W. Grant, who is a member of the original committee of twenty-five.

The original call for the meeting of the committee of fifty was sent out by Secretary Cooper as follows:

"Pursuant to adjournment the exposition committee of fifty will meet in the chamber of commerce at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow Thursday afternoon, June 7. A full and prompt attendance is requested.

"Yours very truly,
"W. G. COOPER,
"Secretary."

It is believed that as soon as the new executive committee gets well organized and new plans are put on foot for the raising of the subscriptions, the whole amount of money needed will be quickly secured. Less than $200,000 is to be subscribed and those who have been actively at work for the exposition feel very optimistic about its success.

As a full attendance of the committee has been urgently requested, there will doubtless be the largest meeting the committee has ever had.

SHORT ITEMS.

T. B. YARBRO AND M. L. STOLLARD, the latter a conductor of a Decatur street electric car, were in court yesterday afternoon on the charge of fighting. Yarboro was fined $3.75, and Stollard $5.75 and costs.

JOHN LIGHTNING AND HERBERT Smith, two white men, strolled into a Greek's restaurant on Decatur street Tuesday night and ordered a "Delmonico," and began to satisfy their abnormal appetite. On completing the repast Lightning and Smith were asked by the Greek for the price, and being unable to pay the required coin, were arrested by Patrolman Rowan. They were fined $10 and costs by Judge Broyles yesterday afternoon.

OFFICER HAZEL, WHO WAS BADly hurt by a burly negro Tuesday night, was able to be out Wednesday, and was at the police station yeterday. MISS ROSA HAM, OF McDONOUGH, Ga., and Miss Charlie King, two of the victims of the wreck Tuesday night, are reported as resting easy at a late hour last night. Miss Ham's parents were telegraphed for, and arrived early yesterday morning from their home in McDonough, and went immediately to the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. King, of 35 Sells avenue. The father of the injured young lady is principal of the McDonough institute, and is one of the leading educators in the state. Mrs. Hembrick, of 57 1-2 East Hunter street, was a victim of the wreck Tuesday night. Mrs. Hemrick had her left hip and arm badly mashed.

MRS. B. F. KING AND ANOTHER daughter are at their home, 35 Sells avenue, suffering from nervous prostration, occasioned by the accident to Mrs. Charlie King.

ARTHUR JACKSON, ALIAS MALone, was tried before Judge Broyles yesterday afternoon on the charge of slapping a young white boy a couple of weeks ago, and was fined $25 and costs. Jackson is being held on another charge for assaulting Officer W. L. Thompson. Officer Thompson was called to arrest the negro upon slapping the boy, and had quite a tussle with him before the negro was finally subdued, receiving injuries which necessitated an operation.

JAMES MILLER, A NEGRO BOY, who has had his two legs cut off and who conducts a shoe shining establishment at 43 Decatur street, appeared before Judge Broyles yesterday afternoon on the charge of selling intoxicating liquors. Last Saturday night he was caught with a quart bottle of whisky, and a dozen or more empties in his possession. CANDLER TO HEAD EMORY TRUSTEES

Prominent Atlanta Capitalist Asked To Accept Honor.

Captain J. P. Williams, Now President of Board, Will Resign—Mr. Candler Has Done Yeoman Service for the College.

Asa G. Candler, president of the Candler Investment Company, head of the number of other big enterprises associated with it, is being urged to accept the presidency of the board of trustees of Emory college, and it is believed that Mr. Candler will agree to bow to the wishes of the members of the board.

Captain J. P. Williams, of Savannah, who for the past six years has headed the board, and who has labored for its interests with great effect, will, it is said, refuse to accept a reelection, feeling that his private interests will no longer allow him to spare the necessary time.

For many years Mr. Candler has been chairman of the finance committee of the board of trustees, and a great part of the success of the institution has been due to his faithful service and eminent business ability. He has managed the finances of the college with the same skill he has shown in his private business affairs, and has given his time to the work without stint. Only a few days ago he disposed of a piece of Whitehall street property owned by the college at such a figure as to produce a handsome profit.

The members of the board are unanimous in their desire to have Mr. Candler take the presidency, since it has been learned that Captain Williams' decision is final, and their solicitations have been of such a character that it is said that Mr. Candler has practically decided to accept.

The name of Candler is so indelibly engraved on the history of Emory college through the distinguished service of Bishop Warren A. Candler, who was for eight years its president, and through the work of Asa G. Candler, as trustee, that the election of the latter will cause as great pleasure from a sentimental standpoint among those who love the college as it will give assurance of a continued management of its business affairs.

STONE IS LAID AT NEW CHURCH

Services Were Conducted by Bishop Nelson Yesterday.

Impressive ceremonies were conducted by Bishop Nelson yesterday at the laying of the cornerstone of the new St. Luke's Episcopal church, which is located at the head of Alexander street, on Peachtree. A large crowd was present.

The service in connection with the cornerstone laying was opened by the chanting of the choir, which was made up largely of local clergymmen of the Episcopal church. All the Episcopal clergy of the city was present. Rev. Wilmer read the scripture lesson.

The audience was much impressed with the size of the church building. From the appearance of the foundations it gives evidence of being the largest Episcopal auditorium in the city. The building itself will be about 50 by 200 feet. It will be of very simple architectural design, but very stately because of its simple plans.

The ceiling will be 40 feet high from the floor of the auditorium, which will give it inside a most cathedral appearance.

Bishop Nelson read the regular Episcopal form for the laying of a cornerstone, and the audience and ministry responded beautifully. Before the final exercises in connection with the laying of the stone were gone through with, Colonel Z. D. Rarrison came to the front and after a few remarks read out the list of the articles to be placed in the cornerstone.

The address of Bishop Nelson was eloquent and appropriate. In addition to the address of Bishop Nelson, several of the other ministers of the city spoke, including an address by Rabbi Marx.

The funeral services of little Hugh Inman Grant, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Grant, too place yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, being impressively conducted by Rev. C. P. Bridewell, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church.

A large assemblage of friends were present in sympathy with the bereaved family.

The prayers and scriptural readings were interspersed with music, Mrs. Jarnagin and Mr. Marshbank singing, and Mrs. Roby Robinson, the accompanist. The selections exquisitely rendered were "Abide With Me," "Asleep in Jesus," and "My Father's Love."

The interment took place later in the afternoon. It was attended by the family only.

WOMAN INJURED IN A RUNAWAY

Two Cabs Collide and Mrs. L. M. Herndon Is Thrown Out.

Two cabs, mixed up on the Forsyth street bridge yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, caused Mrs. S. M. Herndon, of 61 East Ellis street, to be seriously and painfully injured.

Mrs. Herndon was in a cab driven by Will Searcy, a negro, and was on her way to the Terminal Station to take a train to Macon. When Searcy started to drive over the Forsyth street bridge he heard a loud clattering behind him and glancing back he saw a horse, hitched to a cab, running away and dashing towards him at a furious gait.

Richard Wiley, a negro, was trying to hold the runaway horse in check but was powerless to stop him. The horse belonged to Cox Bros.

When Searcy reached the point where the bridge diverges to intersect Alabama street he saw a car approaching on the right side and he was forced to take to his right. He could not stop as the runaway horse was fast gaining on him. His only hope was to reach Alabama street.

All the while Wiley was pulling hard on the reins and a large crowd was flocking upon the bridge to see the outcome of the affair.

Wiley's horse reached the cab in which were Mrs. Herndon and her driver, Searcy, and swerved a little to the left. The two cabs came together with a crash and Searcy's vehicle was overturned. Mrs. Herndon was thrown upon the brick pavement on her face, the left side of which was cut to the bone. She was badly bruised about the head and body.

Patrolman Hooten investigated the affair and took the names of all parties. He said he would probably make a case against Wiley or Cox Bros., for driving a wild horse on the street breaking him to a cab.

Mrs. Herndon was sent back to her home to receive medical attention.

SAY CHILD DID NOT DIE AFTER GIVING TO FUND

Mrs. Shepherd Walker, a handsome woman of about forty years of age, was arrested Wednesday night at the instigation of residents of Randolph street, who charge her with collecting funds to defray the funeral expenses of a poor child who never died. Mrs. Walker was taken to the station by Officer Kilpatrick, but was not locked up, as her lawyer, Reuben Arnold, was communicated with, and arranged bond for her.

Through her attorney, Reuben Arnold, Mrs. Walker sued the Central road for damages for the death of her husband, who was killed some time ago on that road, and received a verdict in her favor in the sum of $5,000. A man who knows Mrs. Walker very well, stated last night that Mrs. Walker must be worth at least $15,000 or $20,000 in her own name.

The case will be heard before Judge Broyles Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MORE IMMIGRANTS NEEDED.

So a Committee Tells Roosevelt—Restriction Laws Not Wanted.

Washington, D. C., June 7.—A committee consisting of Michael F. Conry, of the Irish Federations; Henry L. Scheurman and Mark J. Katz, of the German American Federation, and Celestine Pival, of the Italian Societies, all of New York city, and P. P. Hunter, of Jasper, Ala., and D. W. Coons, of Paducah, Ky., of the southern state immigration commission, called on the president today to present to him a set of resolutions adopted at a meeting in New York, on the 4th instant. The resolutions urge that no further restrictive laws, as to immigration, be enacted, reciting that the present laws are ample protection to American citizenship. They further recite that immigration of a desirable kind is needed in this country.

The committee was presented to the president by Representative Bennett, of New York.

Later in the day, the committee called on Speaker Cannon, and presented to him the same set of resolutions. The president did not give the committee assurance as to his position on the resolutions, indicating that he would consider the subject.

SOCIETY

Holleman-Fuller.

MISS WILLIE HOLLEMAN and Mr. J. Clyde Fuller were married Wednesday evening at the home of the bride on E. Georgia avenue. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Purser in the presence of the intimate friends and relatives of both families.

The home was attractively decorated throughout with a great profusion of marguerites, sweet peas, ferns, and palms. In the parlor the chandelier under which the bridal party were grouped, was wrapped with the marguerites. Palms and ferns banked together formed a charming background for the fair young bride, who looked very sweet and girlish in her going away gown of tan collenne cloth, made jacket suit and trimmed with valenciennes lace and medallions. Her hat was a very becoming leghorn shape, trimmed in chiffon and blue forget-me-nots.

The attendants were: Miss Kathleen Fuller, Mr. Tom Dickson, Miss Luella Smith, Mr. Berry Godfrey; maid of honor, Miss Maud Hayes, of South Carolina; and best man, Mr. T. E. Fuller. The bride's bouquet was caught by Kathleen Fuller, sister to the groom.

After a short stay at Lookout Mountain the young couple will be at home to their many friends at 319 East Georgia avenue.

Cook-Shearer.

THE marriage of Miss Kate Marie Cook occurred Thursday evening at 9 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. E. Cook. Miss Ethel Thomas and Miss Bessie Stahl, Mr. T. A. Kemp and Mr. Richard James were the attendants. The ceremony was followed by an informal reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Shearer left at 7 o'clock for their wedding trip, and on their return will be at home at 530 Washington street.

Guild-Day.

WEDNESDAY evening at 8 o'clock Miss Mabel Young Guild was married to Mr. Thomas F. Day, of Lumber City, by Rev. John E. White.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. Frederick Guild, a prominent business man of Atlanta. Mr. Day is a prominent lawyer of south Georgia and is mayor of Lumber City.

The wedding was a quiet home affair, only members of the two families and a few intimate friends being present. The couple left on the Central train for Savannah at 8 a. m. Thursday, June 7.

Laird-Everitt.

A PRETTY wedding was that of Miss Mary Glover Laird, of this city, and Mr. Henry Olin Everitt, of Conyers, which took place at St. John's on Tuesday afternoon, June 5.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. N. Snow and was witnessed by a large number of friends.

The church was beautiful, the altar banked with palms and a profusion of marguerites and jasmines. The bridal party entered to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played with exquisite skill by Mrs. H. Edgar Fry.

First came the ushers, Dr. Manning W. Manahan, Mr. Herbert J. West, Mr. Clarence Wayne and Mr. Horace C. Russell. Then followed the page, Master Heywood Wood, the handsome little son of Mr Henry M. Wood, and the flower girl, little Miss Dorothy Wilhelm, who looked a veritable fairy in a dainty creation of chiffon and lace with pink ribbons. She carried a basket of pink roses.

Preceding the bride was her maid of honor, Miss Catherine Craig, a picture of loveliness in a beautiful creation of Paris muslin and lace with a white picture hat. She carried pink roses with streamers of pink tulle.

The bride entered with her brother, Mr. William A. Laird, and was met at the altar by his groom and best man, Mr. George Everitt, his brother. The bride was beautiful in a going-away gown of gray radium silk with gray hat trimmed with Persian ribbon, maline and cream roses. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom left for a trip to Mount Airy and Tallulah for a few weeks. After their return they will be at home to their friends at 510 South Pryor street.

The bride is one of Atlanta's talented young pianists and is loved and appreciated for her many graces of character. For several years she has been organist of St. John's church.

Mr. Everitt numbers his friends by the score. He is a young man of fine business qualifications and sterling character. The large number of beautiful presents received attested the popularity of the young couple.

Austin-Hunt.

AT the residence of her mother, Mrs. S. D. Austin, at Goodman, Miss., on Tuesday, June 5, at 2:30 p. m, Rev. J. Tillery Lewis, of Durant, Miss., officiating, Miss Annie Austin was married to Mr. Homer L. Hunt, of Atlanta, Ga.

Miss Austin has been in charge of the music class at Forest, Miss., for the past two years. She is a daughter of the late Hon. R. P. Austin, M. D., of Scott county, Miss., who was for some years prominently identified with the interests of his section of the state.

Mr. Hunt is a native Georgian, and has been for sometime a citizen of Atlanta, but resided for a number of years in Mississippi, where he met Miss Austin. They were playmates in childhood, since which time an unbroken freindship has existed between them, culminating in their marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt are at home to their friends at 242 Lawton street, West End, this city.

Engagement Reception.

MISS PAULINE LEERS, whose engagement to Mr. Mortimer W. Bialla has been announced, will be at home to their friends Sunday, June 17, from 4 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon and from 8 to 10 o'clock in the evening.

An Artistic Success.

MR. VERNON D'ARNALLE, the celebrated baritone, had brilliant opportunity for the artistic and effective work he accomplished in the programme presented by him at the recital given last night at Marist hall. He was assisted by Mr. Oscar Pappenheimer and Mr. J. Fowler Richardson. His interpretation of the prologue from "Pagliacci," by Leoncavalla, was compared by those who heard it last night with that of the most distinguished of metropolitan opera stars, and Mr. d'Arnalle is justly ranked with the leading baritone artists of the day.

He presented the Brahms songs with that musical intelligence and culture which charmed his appreciative audience and enthusiastic was their acceptance of de' Riego's "O Dry Those Tears," with 'cello obligato.

The programme was as follows:

Vernon d'Arnalle, baritone; J. Fowler Richardson, pianist; Oscar Pappenheimer, 'cellist.

Vocal, Leoncavalla—Prologue from Pagliacci.

'Cello, (a) Gluck, Iphigenia's Aria; (b) Elgar, Chanson de Nuit; (c) Grieg, Love Poem.

Vocal, (a) Brahms, in Summer Fields; (b) Brahms, Serenade; (c) Hahn, L'Heure Exquise; (d) Lassen, Spring.

'Cello, (a) Saint-Saens, Melody; (b) Hegner, Devotion; (c) Wittenbecken, Valse.

Vocal, Coleridge-Taylor, Hiawatha's Farewell.

Vocal, 'cello obligato, Mendelssohn, It Is Enough; Del Regio, O Dry Those Tears; Mey er--Helmund, Rococo Serenade.

Teachers' Association Meet.

WHEREAS, On the night of May 23, the pure spirit of our fellow teacher, Mrs. J. G. Scrutchin, passed away into heavenly rest, in these resolution of sympathy we would render highest tribute to so much of human worth transplated to bloom elsewhere in ampler sphere;

Resolved, That in the death of Mrs. Scrutchin the Atlanta Teachers' Association has sustained collectively and individually an enduring loss. In this community she has been known from her early years, and here she has been engaged in many lines of endeavor, in all of which she has performed each obligation well. But with her Christian principles, her excellent education, and her literary attainments, she was especially fitted to become the guide of the young, and in her work in the schools have been enlisted her best energies and most devoted efforts.

To the teachers she has been endeared by her kindness, helpful counsel, and generous encouragement. To the children who have been under her charge during the nineteen years of her connection with the public schools she has been teacher and friend, and the impress made by her upon their minds, the good seed sown will culminate in rich fruitage in hundreds of homes. The lives of the good enforce attention. They inspire the soul like a rich harmony. They leave upon the legacy of noble thoughts the seal of shining example. Thus will the memeory of our much regreted friend be enshrined in our hearts, pointing us ever with a pure humanity and faith sincere to brgiter things.

Resolved, That to the bereaved husband, sons and mother in their desolate home, to the sisters so sadly stricken, we extend our deepest sympathy. May they be consoled by the thought of their loved one, in the heavenly mansions, amid grand eternal processes living on, and where, when comes to them, the final call, they will find her,

"Clothed with celestial grace,
And beautiful with all the soul's expansion."

THEATERS.

At the Casino.

There will be but three more chances for theatergoers to enjoy the particularly good bill of vaudeville that has so well pleased the people at the Casino this week.

Despite the counter attractions, the bill drew another large audience last night, and all of the acts were well received. There has not been a better vaudeville offerings than this one. There is plenty of novelty, enough real comedy, decidedly interesting novelty, and as good music as any one would want to hear.

Little Chip and Mary Marble at the head of a selected Wells, Dunne and Harlan company, including many musical madens, will present "Giordana" at the Casino all of next week. Seats for the engagement will be placed on sale at the Grand box office today.

The company has scored a great hit in Richmond, Norfolk, Birmingham, Nashville and Memphis, and is coming to the Casino to try to break all records.

WILL PROSECUTE FORMER MEMBERS

Evans, Boykin and Towell To Face Charges.

Former Dispensary Commissioners Are Accused of Malfeasance in Office—Evans, It Is Said, Has Been Seen with Hat Full of Money.

Columbia, S. C., June 7.—As the result of disclosures before the dispensary investigating committee, H. H. Evans, L. W. Boykin and J. B. Towel, former members of the dispensary board, will be prosecuted for malfeasance in office.

The committee adjourned today.

The investigation of state dispensary affairs has become highly sensational.

Last night it was testified by Louis W. Parker, manager of a large mill in this state, that J. Lanahan, of Baltimore, confessed to him that although he had paid a member of the dispensary purchasing board $1,500 he was unable to get any business, as the brother in law of the member in question represented another house. The statement was corroborated today by E. W. Robertson, a banker. It was brought out that the conversations with Lanahan occurred at a hotel in New York.

Hatful of Money.

C. C. Davis, a contractor, swore today that while building a house for Evans at Newberry he several times saw in Evans' possession large amounts of money, a thousand dollar bill generally being on the outside. Once he had seen Evans with a beaver hat full of money in greenbacks. Evans, he said, told him that his friends had given him the money and other presents and that these friends were liquor dealers. At that time, he said, Evans was chairman of the purchasing board. Davis further stated he had heard Evans complain that other members of the board were not giving him his share of the orders according to arrangement and that he had laid a trap by which he and Briggs Wilson, manager of a distillery in Columbia, had seen other whisky men pass rebate money to other members of the dispensary board. Evans and Wilson he said, were standing on a table looking through a transom.

TROOPS PROTECT NEGRO SLAYER

Governor Broward Fears Jim Davis May Be Lynched.

Tallahassee, Fla., June 7.—Governor Broward this afternoon, on request of Sheriff Carter, ordered the Brooksville company of the state militia to proceed at once to Inverness to prevent the lynching of Jim Davis, alias Dago, the negro who shot and killed Robert Russell, a well-known business man, last Tuesday. The Leesburg company has also been ordered to hold itself in readiness to go to Inverness if needed.

Russell was attempting to collect a debt from Davis, who, with no other provocation, shot and killed Russell and the negro boy who was driving his team. Davis was captured today and the indignation at his crime is so great that Sheriff Carter fears attempts will be made to take him from the jail tonight.

CIVIL LEAGUE GETTING BUSY

Many Improvements Are Legislated by Council at Columbus.

Columbus, Ga., June 7.—(Special.)—The civic improvement doctrines preached by the newly-formed Civic Improvement League received substantial indorsement at the hands of city council yesterday afternoon when the following legislation was enacted:

An ordinance was adopted making it unlawful to unhitch or feed stock on any of the streets within the city limits of Columbus.

An ordinance was adopted making it unlawful to prevent chickens and other fowls from running at large—legislation that means much for flower gardens.

The adoption of an ordinance providing that obstructions in the streets at night, of whatever character, must bear red lights.

A movement was inaugurated to have neat receptacles placed on Broad street for the collection of trash. The newly paved streets will be swept regularly.

COLUMBUS HIGH SCHOOL.

Columbus, Ga., June 7.—(Special.)—The closing exercises of the Columbus high school took place tonight and diplomas were awarded to fifteen graduates by G. Gunby Jordan, president of the school board. The following programme was carried out in the presence of a large number of the relatives and friends of the pupils:

Invocation—Rev. J. W. Shoaff.
Salutatory—Owen Edge.
Chorus, "Joys of Spring"—High School Choral Club.
Declamation, "The Black Horse and His Rider"—Albert Loewenterz, winner of the Petri oratorical medal.

RUMOR WAS BASIS FOR THE CHARGES

Such Is Allegation Anent Professor Kilpatrick.

Said That When Students Who Had Made Charges of Unorthodoxy Were Examined They Failed To Specify a Single Instance.

Constitution Bureau, 467 Second Street, Macon, Ga., June 7.—(Special.)—No little surprise has marked the announcement of the changes at Mercer university, and the Baptists of the city today are disappointed at the loss of Vice President Kilpatrick from the chair of mathematics and philosophy. It is learned from authoritative sources today that four members of the board stood out against him last night after he had been heard as to his own theology. The other board members, some of them leading Baptists of the state, realize that Mercer has lost a very strong member of the faculty and they are one with the students of the past four or five years in declaring that a more orthodox Baptist never held a place in this institution.

Vice President Kilpatrick for several years taught a Sunday school class in the First Baptist church, and held this same position when his theology was questioned. It was solely for his religious views as reported to certain members of the board that he was called to task.

Couldn't Name Instances.

Several members of the board today declare that in the efforts which were made to arrive at the truth not a single student who was called in was able to single out a definite instance and make a specific charge against the man whose theology was questioned. All of them said they had heard things, but could make no charges. Among the reports which went to the members was a statement that Vice President Kilpatrick had denied the virgin birth of Christ and had used infidel productions in his course in philosophy. All these assertions, it is alleged, were run down and were found to be rumor. It is further alleged that these rumors were reported by students who had failed to make the required marks in the course in philosophy and had failed to grasp the course sufficiently to make accurate declarations as to the real principles taught.

Vice President Kilpatrick said today that his strong friends among the board members had done all they could; that there was now no ill will between him and any one and that possibly there would be no effort to undo what has been done. He believed it would be better to accept matters as they had been settled. This was the opinion of the local board members, and while he will remain in Macon some time, he may enter other fields. He said he would enter school again somewhere, were it not for his family's home needs.

A Year of Uphill Work.

This has been a year of uphill work and the presidency has been one of trials. Dr. Smith is held as a man of culture, and refinement and is considered a fine college man by the public, and especially the people of Macon. Faculty dissentions are said to have early caused misunderstanding, but this was wiped out at the close of the term. Many signs of progress have been seen in the year's work and the donations have been unusually good.

The meeting was said to have been harmonious, on the whole, and only one member of the board went out during the business transactions. This was T. E. Merritt. His successor was A. L. Adams, one of Macon's leading cotton merchants. Four men contended for their convictions against Vice President Kilpatrick. Other action was united and when S. Y. Jameson, of Atlanta, was proposed for the presidency there was not a dissenting voice. His acceptance has been a source of gratification not only to the board, but to the entire denomination and this new head of the institution will have the full sympathy and support of the entire denomination.

He is one of Vice President Kilpatrick's closest personal friends and it is believed that strong efforts are now under way for a retention of the latter. Dr. Jameson is widely beloved and will come to Mercer with strong wishes of success from many people.

Dr. Smith's Explanation.

Dr. Smith will only remain a short time in his position. He has hardly been at Mercer a year. He has explained his going out and it is his desire as well as that of the trustees that this be given to the public. It follows:

"Mercer University, Macon, Ga., June 6, 1906. To the Board of Trustees of Mercer University:

"Gentlemen—I beg to acknowledge your reply to my annual report. As you do not endorse the policy and authorize the improvements which I regard as essential to the welfare of the university, I cannot in justice to my convictions of duty, consent to continue in my present position. Since I requested to be assigned the chair of history and economics, with an associate to assist in the department, your reply concerns me personally. You say 'We recommend that, inasmuch as the president has so much executive and financial work to do, we no not deem it wise to lay upon him the burden of any department.) I am not willing to cease teaching entirely, for not only do I love the wowrk, but I need lecture room association with the students in order to secure the best administrative results.

"For these reasons I tender my resignation to take effect as soon as you can arrange for me to be relieved of the duties of the presidency. Respectfully,

"CHARLES LEE SMITH,
"President."

The Wholesale Grocers.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 7.—The National Wholesale Grocers' Association adjourned this afternon to meet next year in Chicago.

A resolution was unanimously adopted putting the association on record in favor of pure food legislation.

William Judsen, of Grand Rapids, was elected president; Ira B. Smith, of Milwaukee, treasurer. A board of twenty-one directors was also chosen.

Continuance Stands.

Montgomery, Ala., June 7.—(Special.)—The supreme court refused today to set aside the continuance on the appeal of the case of Henry B. Gray v. the Louisville and Nashville, and submission will not be made until next fall. This is the case wherein the lower court granted a judgment ousting the Louisville and Nashville from control of the South and North, the division from Decatur to Montgomery.

By Jake Harris.

Atlanta's winning streak was smashed to smithereens by Charley Babb yesterday afternoon. It's a sad tale—7 to 6 in eleven innings, with the bulk of the score going to the name, Memphis.

It was only natural that the winning streak had to be broken, but that it was broken in the way it was, i. e., with the Firecrackers playing with all their heft and clouting the ball as hard as their guests. The localites grabbed fourteen hits as their share of the festivities and Babb's men got thirteen. The visitors' hits were for more extra bases and were more opportune than the Atlanta's.

Memphis' Fielding Ragged.

The fielding of Babb's boys was dark brown in spots, the spots being at the crucial moments. Nicholls played the star role in this line.

The visitors opened up with a run in the first. A base on balls to Thiel and a hit by Nadeau which 'umps' declared a fair ball went for a couple of sacks and scored Thiel. Carey singled and Thiel came in.

A single, a sacrifice and a hit brought "Dick" Crozier homeward in Atlanta's first. In the Memphis third a double, a sacrifice and a single produced one. In the fourth Babb saw a run by means of three consecutive singles.

In Atlanta's fifth two singles and a double, the last by J. Fox landed a pair for the home team. Another came Gate Cityward, two hits and a fielder's choice doing the work. In the ninth B. Smith's men knotted the score. Stinson singled and Jordan doubled, sending Stinson to third, Evers hit to pitcher, who caught Stinson coming home. Jordan went to third and Evers kept on to second. Jack beat the ball to the Keystone sack and Jordan stole in home. It was a tidy affair neatly executed.

Everything went along darkly for both sides up to the tenth and Atlanta's chances looked so bright even the evening star, who was one of the spectators during the latter part of the play, smiled down sweetly on the scene. With two men on bases and one out the squeeze play was attempted. It fizzled. Sad news, but had it worked the natives would have gone mad with delight.

In the eleventh a double and two singles netted the other fellows a couple of tallies.

In the local half of what proved the inning of undoing, Jordan beat out a bunt after two were out. Evers doubled, and the star smiled gladly as Jordan tipped the pan. Baxter Sparks had a chance to tie the score. That athlete came to the plate and the beams from mother moon's bright face streamed over his shoulders. Baxter out, short to first. Game over. Streak busted.

The figures speak for themselves.

Time of first heart (5 miles) 7:38 3-5 minuts; time of second heat 7:31 minutes.

H. J. Norton won the amateur championship race, making the mile in 2:17 2-5.

Although the time or the final heat between Walthour and Hall was slightly lower than the first, it was by far the most exciting, and proved in every sense the climax of the evening. As soon as the pistol cracked and tne two riders had fairly caught their pace, Bobby Walthour began to gain. By the beginning of the fifth mile, he had gained almost a half lap.

As Walthour's pacer began to edge up closer and closer at every lap, the big crowd became excited and shouted encouragemest to their favorite. Faster and faster the puffing machines flew, each hugged by the bicyclist. Suddenly Hall's front wheel swerved just a little, and he had lost his pace. There was a tangle for a moment—then Bobby Walthour was seen to shoot ahead like a bolt out of a catapult, leaving pacing machines and everything behind. At the crack of the pistol, he was a full lap ahead of hi sopponent.

After the third event, it was announced that William Jenkins, formerly of Birmingham, now of Atlanta, challenged any other Atlanta rider with the exception of Walthour. This challenge was promptly accepted by H. J. Norton, the race to be run some time sext week. Jenkins then rode an exhibition motor paced race, making a mile in exactly 2 minutes.

KILLING HEAT OVER COUNTRY

Deaths and Prostrations Are Reported in Several Cities.

New York, June 7.—One death and several prostrations were reported from heat yesterday. Government records showed a maximum temperature of only 63 in the upper regions, yet sidewalk temperatures indicated a maximum of 93.

Although yesterday was not the hottest day in the year, it was attended with more distress on account of the humidity. The rain at nightfall tempered the air considerably, although by 9 o'clock a temperature of 76 degrees was registered.

Greatest Heat of Year.

Chicago, June 7.—Yesterday brought the greatest heat of the year thus far in Chicago, the temperature rising at 91 degrees at 3 o'clock p. m., at the United States weather bureau.

The heat caused the death of six persons, and the prostration of several. Normal temperatures for this time of the year is 60 degrees.

L. AND N. LOSES RIVER FRONT.

It Is Barred by Injunction Granted in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, June 7.—The construction of elevated tracks by the Louisville and Nashville railway along the river front was perpetually enojined in a decision handed down by Judge Hoffheimer today. The track is for the purpose of connecting the company's terminals at Vine street with the end of the bridge at Butler street and runs the entire length of the Cincinnati wharfage. It is being constructed under an ordinance of the council granting the right. Solicitor Lowman filed an action in injunction on the part of the city, claiming that the work as being constructed acted as a complete bar to river traffic in that the nearness of the piers of each other absolutely obstructed hauling to and from the wharf.

The decision holds that the council abused its rights in passing the ordinance by which the Louisville and Nashville is granted the privilege of constructing a track along the river front. Then the court supplements this by holding that the council not alone abused its power in granting a privilege of the nature it did, but also that the council had no power to pass the ordinance or any ordinance granting exclusive rights of streets to any person or corporation and that it is inoperative. The effect of the decision is to oust the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company from the river front.

Marion E. Taylor, Louisville, president.

First vice president, M. W. Murphey, Chicago.

Second vice president, E. V. Dougherty, Philadelphia.

Treasurer, Ephriam Rice, Philadelphia.

It was the sense of the convention that the next annual meeting be held in Atlantic City in pursuance of a policy that the wholesalers hereafter meet in cities where there is no wholesale business, but the seclection of the time and place was left with the executive committee.

A resolution offered by William Mida, of Chicago, was adopted, calling upon the national government to enact laws putting federal supervisors in charge of all distilleries, whatever their capacity. The resolution was especially directed against hundreds of small distilleries of ten gallon capacity in Georgia.

A resolution was also adopted recommending the passage of a law prohibiting the sale of whiskies containing any poisonous or deleterious substance whether added or otherwise, but condemning any pure food bill which would operate against the blending of whisky.

The convention closed tonight with a banquet at which twenty-nine brands of champagne were served.

New York Coroner Barred.

New York, June 7.—When Coroner Shrady attempted to go on yesterday with his inquisition into conditions in the Pennsylvania railroad tunnel under the East river, counsel for Pearson & Son, the contractors, told him that all officers and employees of the concern had been instructed to disregard subpenas for the inquiry. The company's accident book was also refused.

Rojestvensky to be Tried.

St. Petersburg, June 7.—The naval court of inquiry has presented an indictment against Vice Admiral Rojestvensky, who commanded the Russian fleet at the battle of the Sea of Japan, and the officers of the torpedo boat destroyer Bedovi, which engaged and sank a Japanese torpedo boat. The trial of the indicted officer has been fixed for July 4. The penalty is death.

OFFERED TO PUT HIMSELF, HIS FORTUNE AND FAMILY ON THE ALTAROF JUSTICE

CHICAGO, June 7.—In the closing hour of his trial yesterday, Louis A. Gourdrain offered himself, his fortune and his family as a sacrifice on the altar of justice. Should the jurors find him guilty, the alleged lottery man said he would court the severest sentences, when he came from prison he would turn his possessions over to the government and proceed to erase himself and family.

Gourdrain has been on trial for several weeks on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

Goudrain, who is charged with promoting a scheme similar to a lottery, has conducted his own case and introduced no witnesses in his own defense. He declares that his scheme is as legitimate as the operations of any board of trade member. His defense has attracted much attention.

VALUE OF A MAN FIXED IN DOLLARS AND CENTS

BOSTON, June 7.—"What is a man worth in dollars and cents?"

"Can flesh and blood and brains be reduced to figures with the dollar sign before it?"

These questions were considered yesterday at a meeting of the ophthalmology department of the American Medical Association when Dr. Holte, of Portland, Me., showed a table that an American's value in money could actually be taken into consideration—his occupation and age.

Dr. Holte confirmed the Dr. Osler theory, and by a table showed that the economic value of a laboring man began to decrease after his twenty-fifth year, and that the economic value of a professional man began to decrease after his fortieth year.

Dr. Holte's table rates a boy of 10 years to be worth $2,601.62, at 15 he is worth $2,633.66, at 25 he is worth $5,488.03 and from that time on his value decreases until at 70 he is worth only $17.13, and at 80 years he is a drawback to the community to the extent of $872.84.

A professional man at 25 years has an economic value of $25,898.94, and his highest value is at 40 years, when he is worth $29,344.68.

BUSY SESSION OF THE HOUSE.

Twenty-five Pages of Sundry Civil Bill Completed.

Washington, June 7.—An attack and a spirited defense of the president were the features of a busy day in the house of representatives, Mr. Brundidge, of Arkansas, assailing the items for the executive department and the care of the white house and grounds as grossly extravagant in contrast to days of "past simplicity."

Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, championed the appropriations in the name of the American people.

The naval appropriation bill was sent to conference, the conferees on the part of the house being Foss, of Illinois; Loudenslager, of New Jersey, and Meyer, of Louisiana.

A bill was passed extending the provisions of the act of March 3, 1901, to officers of the navy and marine corps advanced at any time under provisions of sections 1506 and 1605 for eminent and conspicuous conduct in battle.

After completing five pages of the sundry civil bill the house adjourned.

TRADE IN COTTON WAS VERY QUIET

Opened at Slight Decline in Response to Lower Cables.

There Was Little Cotton for Sale, and the Market Advanced on Shorts Covering and Bull Support, Closing 3 to 5 Points Higher.

New York, June 7.—The cotton market was more active today, and after some early irregularity ruled generally steady, with the close steady at a net advance of 2 to 6 points. Sales were estimated at 200,000 bales. The market opened steady at a decline of 2 to 4 points in response to lower cables, favorable weather reports and expectations of a bearish week-end statement as a result of the short week in the Liverpool market. But there was very little cotton for sale here on the decline, and the market soon rallied on covering of shorts and buying of July by the bull leaders. July led the advance and sold up to 10.62, or 6 points net higher, while other months were 2 to 3 points higher. The demand seemed to decrease on a scale up, and toward midday the market reacted to about the closing figures of the previous day, but later rallied again on reports of large spot sales from the local stock. The close was within a point or two of the best. Sales of 6,500 bales were reported in the local spot market for consumption and export.

Receipts at the ports today 6,011 bales, against 11,038 last week and 10,058 last year.

For the week 60,000 bales, against 76,957 last week and 112,430 last year.

Today's receipts at New Orleans 1,371 bales, against 2,956 last year, and at Houston 464 bales, against 4,892 last year.

New Orleans Cotton Market.

New Orleans, June 7.—Spots were called firm at yesterday's prices; middling 10 13-16. Sales were 1,450 bales on the spot and 1,100 to arrive, a total of 2,550.

The demand was good, but factors had little for sale, and the trading was restricted in consequence. Futures opened quiet at a decline of 2 to 4 points on disappointing English cables, and a good weather map. The undertone of the market, however, was good, and prices showed resistance to bear pressure. The good demand for spots and the buying of July by exporters caused considerable short covering, and led to talk of a squeeze in July. Toward the close, the active positions were 8 to 12 points higher than yesterday's closing, July showing the most strength. On the close the tone was called steady, and the list showed a net advance of 3 to 10 points for the day.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, June 7.—The dry goods market was steady today, with a fair volume of business. Hosiery lines have been opened for the spring of 1907, and the early showings promise good sales. There was slight advance on some lines of fine colored goods. Bleached and brown cotton show but little change, and printed novelties and robes sold well.

Liverpool Cotton Market.

Liverpool, June 7, 12:30 p. m.—Cotton spots, steady at 2 points advance; middling upland 6.01; sales 7,000 bales; speculation and export 500; receipts 8,000 bales, of which 250 American.

Futures opened steady.

CEREALS SCORE SHARP ADVANCE

On Reports of Damage to Crops and Shorts Covering.

At the Close July Wheat Was Up 1 7-8 to 2c, Corn 1 1-8 to 1 1-4c Higher, Oats Gained 3-4c. Provisions Were 2 1-2 to 27 1-2c Higher.

Chicago, June 7.—An advance of almost two cents per bushels in the price of wheat occurred here today as the result of the urgent buying brought out by numerous reports of damage to the growing crop. The market closed nearly at the highest point of the day, the July option showing a gain of 1 7-8@2c. Corn was up 1 1-8@1 1-4c. Oats were up 3-4c. Provisions were 2 1-2 to 27 1-2@30c higher. Sentiment in the wheat pit was extremely bullish all day and there was a strong demand from shorts and commissions houses. The continuance of the wet weather in the northwest was chiefly responsible for the strength and activity of the market. Early in the day the market was influenced somewhat by the strength of corn and oats, but later damage reports made the market strong. Advices were received that black rust was in the wheat fields of Texas, and much damage by drought in Kansas and Nebraska. Higher prices for wheat at Liverpool also increased the bullish sentiment in the local market. At times offerings were very liberal, local longs taking advantage of the situation to secure profits, but some were so urgent that prices continued to advance steadily. July opened a shade to 1-4@3-8c higher at 81 1-2 to 81 3-4c, advanced to 83 1-2c and closed strong at 83 3-8c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 400,700 bushels. Primary receipts were 245,000 bushels against 294,000 for the corresponding day one year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 125 cars against 279 last week and 249 one year ago.

Trading in the corn pit was active and the market was strong. The chief cause of the firmness was that country acceptances were light notwithstanding the high bids that were sent out last night by cash houses. Small local receipts and firm cables were minor influences. Longs Longs were free sellers but all offerings were readily taken by shorts and commission houses. The market closed strong and close to the highest point of the day. July opened 1-4 to 3-8@1-2c higher at 50 1-2@50 5-8 and 50 3-4c, advanced to 51 1-2c and closed at 51 3-8@51 1-2c. Receipts 280 cars, with 127 of contract grade.

Unusual activity prevailed in the oats pit and the market was exceptionally strong. On initial tranactions the demand by shorts was so urgent that prices showed wide fluctuations. The range on the July option was one cent on the opening quotations. The chief cause for the urgent buying was in numerous reports of damage by drought to the new crop. An advance of 1c a bushel in the price of cash oats stimulated the demand for options. Liberal profit taking caused some recession in prices, but the market closed strong. July opened 1-8@1 1-4c higher at 35 1-2 to 36 5-8c and closed at 36 1-8c. Receipts 137 cars.

Provisions were strong on active buying by commission houses and packers. Receipts of live hogs were less than had been expected and shipments of hog products were very heavy. At the close July pork was up 27 1-2@30c at $16.75 @16.77 1-2. Lard was up 7 1-2c at $8.82 1-2. Ribs were 2 -1@5c higher at $9.50.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 7 cars; corn 344; oats 161; hogs 18,000 head.

Gibert & Clay.

New Orleans, June 7.—COTTON—Options abroad failed to respond to the advance that occurred in the cis-Atlantic markets yesterday and on the close recorded a loss of 1 point from the previous day's levels. No cables were received to throw any light on the disappointing price changes. Spot sales showed some improvement over recent transactions, the total today being 7,000 bales at an advance of 2 points. The strength that the summer months displayed today gave the entire list a buoyant appearance. This can undoubtedly be traced to the fact that there exists a decided short interest in these positions, and with the approach of July considerable concern is manifested by shorts who have been covering their commitments in no uncertain manner. The steadiness of futures seems to have awakened a more general desire to buy spot cotton, at any rate a very much better demand has been in evidence today, but the desired grades are reported so scarce that however insistent the demand may be, it is hardly likely that transactions will reach beyond the average. Nevertheless, it is interesting to note that should the desire to replenish supplies become imperative, a far greater interest in the market would naturally be created, also fulfill a long desired want. Our crop reports today are almost of one accord, exceedingly favorable and indicate that the plant is making very satisfactory progress. Here and there complaints are made of excessive moisture and the consequent inability of farmers to properly work the fields, but taken as a whole, the weather has been as favorable as could well be expected.

Chicago, June 7.—WHEAT—The market today has been a broad affair and prices show a very material gain over those of yesterday. While there was nothing sensational in the way of bullish news, it appears the news was so construed by the local shorts who in their efforts to cover created a stampede which resulted in the market advancing quite rapidly. In addition to the above buying bull leaders were not slow to press their advantage, though some of them did not overlook their opportunity to take profits on the advance. While sentiment undoubtedly favors the bull side, we feel rather reluctant about advising purchases, realizing that 90 per cent of the crop damage reports as a rule are grossly exaggerated. It was very noticeable today that northwest houses were the principal sellers.

CORN—We experienced another big day's trade in corn, with prices scoring a further advance. Shippers have failed to follow the market. Eastern buyers refuse to follow two successive bulges. There was considerable selling based on this failure of the cash buyers to follow the bulges, but as the offerings were readily absorbed, the market only experienced a temporary reaction, quickly recovering and closing strong at practically best figures. Present prices to our mind are entirely unwarranted.

OATS—Buying of oats by the outside has been the big feature today. The public has plainly taken an interest in the market. The unfavorable crop conditions prevailing in many sections brought in buying orders. We expect to see oats sell still higher, but would not be surprised to see some reaction, which really appears a little overdue now.

PROVISIONS—Ranges higher on small run of hogs and in sympathy with grain list. There was also application of muscle early and of quiet selling under cover later, which made the trade a little suspicious about following the advance. The packers are in absolute control of the market. Believe it wise to take profits when offered.

New York, June 7—STOCKS—The market displayed a broader range today in a number of issues under speculative influence, and some new high records were made for the movement. The news items and gossip included something favorable for nearly all issues under consideration, and which appear to have more than ordinary support. The money market continues easy, both for call and time money, time money being quoted under 5 per cent and call rates at 3 per cent. Money in London was quoted very easy today and transfers from San Francisco to date amount to $13,679,000. Apart from the possibility of crop damage in the northwest from excessive rains, there are very few unfavorable influences discussed, and operators working for an advance have this in their favor. Meantime, speculation is broadening somewhat and the market is becoming more active and has become more attractive at the same time to casual operators. The market appears to accept realizing sales with good tone and gave evidence of this during the second hour this afternoon. The strength of the situation appears to lie in the standard issues and for this reason we must take a favorable view of the market for the time being.

Ware & Leland.

New York, June 7.—COTTON—There was something of a change in the cotton market this morning. In all probability this was due to the absence of sufficient moisture in several portions of the cotton belt. There have been complaints of insufficient precipitation in southwestern Texas and in portions of the Atlantic states. For a while, these reports have attracted comparatively little attention, but the persistence of rather high temperatures, coupled with the lack of rain has at last aroused uncertainty and caused more or less covering. It does not seem as though the crop were suffering to any great extent, but with the market pretty well sold out and a short interest created in the south, it is more than probable that any turn in weather from one of extremely favoring conditions to adverse surroundings will have decided influence on sentiment. Until we have abundant rain now in the sections where rain is needed, we are not likely to have very much of a decline in cotton, and prices may work up again over 10 1-2c. It is a weather market, and at 10 1-2c there is too little cotton for sale to sell at that figure with any hope of profit. We may have a day or two now of advancing prices, on which cotton bought lower can be sold for profits.

Chicago, June 7.—WHEAT—Foreign markets all displayed strength and buying orders were numerous enough along with the upturns in corn and oats to start local shorts as well as the northwest to covering freely. Offerings were quite small, although considerable selling took place around 83c and above for July, mostly in the way of profit-taking, new buying orders were in evidence right up to the close, with the market strong at top prices, and it would appear as if the market would be elevated to higher levels temporarily.

CORN—There was a great rush to buy the futures at the start on reports of unfavorable weather and country not selling on overnight bids, for acceptances were very small. Realizing appeared at times, but the buying was continuous, with many shorts covering, for the market was full of stop orders. Sentiment is very bullish, but we still think that profits should be accepted on further advances.

OATS—There was general commission house buying, new high levels being established, the advances, however, meeting heavy realizing. It was a run-away market, operations were on a big scale, but we hardly think it advisable to follow up purchases on bulges.

PROVISIONS—Packers continued their buying operations on the light run of hogs for the week, with belated shorts covering, while the smaller packers sold in a moderate way. The closing was very strong, however, but sharp reactions are in order.

New York, June 7.—STOCKS—The stock market moved higher irregularly today. The buying on all small recessions was much better than the selling. The conservative operations received approval in large eastern institutions, which expect betterment of a gradual character. Assurance of easy money during the rest of the year is given by prominent banking interests, and the pools are working on that prospect. We recommend that the bull position be maintained, purchases of standard issues to be made on all recessions, with the taking of reasonable returns on bulges worked independently.

L. J. Anderson & Co.

New York, June 7.—COTTON—In consequence of easier cables there was some hesitancy in the cotton market at the opening today, but later a better tone developed and generally the ruling was firm, but the bulls were not aggressive and the late market dragged. The crop news was generally of a favorable turn, while weather conditions were the subject of conflicting comment being circulated largely in the interests of market manipulators. The port receipts were small, but the weekly visible supply changes were expected to be less bullish than heretofore on account of the smaller spinners' takings abroad following the protracted holiday session in England. There were good-sized exports today, and some of the port stocks showed a good reduction. The propects are that the market from this time forward will be justified more or less by the crop and weather developments and these items should be given careful consideration from day to day.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, June 7.—COTTON—Today Liverpool was the weaker market on realizing by the buyers of yesterday and reported selling against a purchase from our stock. This market was supported from the start, the local traders taking the view that no decline would occur even with present excellent crop prospects, as they were bound to change sooner or later. We find this view held by nearly every one and the tendency therefore is to buy on any small concession, with the belief that an improvement is certain to follow in a short time. Crop reports of a favorable character are passed by with the remark, "Are too good to last." The transactions are practically confined to local trading, the outside public regarding crop advices as extremely favorable. Liverpool will be closed until Monday next.

Miller & Co.

New York, June 7.—COTTON—Liverpool showed little life either in spots or futures. Sales of only 7,000 bales, contrasted strongly with the period of heavy sales last month, when spinners took 14,000 to 15,000 bales per day for a week at a time. It is difficult, therefore, to understand the reports of good spot demand in New Orleans and in this market. There is an impression that the sales of over 6,000 bales here today were made at concessions from quotations in order to work off the cotton taken up by the May bulls, while the demand in New Orleans runs apparently to good middling and strict good middling only, and other grades are neglected and move slowly. Under the impetus of better spot demand, future prices moved upward to a moderate extent, July gaining 5 to 6 points, while the new crop advanced 2 to 3. The gain was mainly at the expense of the short interest, the covering of which has considerably reduced that side of the account. Very little outside buying has been attracted, and the market does not show any sings of dormant strength. While there are complaints of unfavorable weather in Texas and Louisiana, these are overweighed by reports of ideal weather and general improvement in prospects throughout the eastern and central parts of the belt. While such conditions continue we would prefer to sell the market on all advances.

Chicago, June 7.—WHEAT—Offerings of wheat were surprisingly moderate, and values advanced 2c a bushel on the influence of strength in the course of grains, continued rains in the northwest and on reports of black rust in Texas. The southwestern buying, which was a feature at one time, was presumed to be on crop conditions. Rumor had it that the Missouri report will show a loss of 7 points the past month.

CORN—There was a repetition of the experience of yesterday in the corn pit, though the advance was more extensive today. Close was strong and at top figures. The ready response in cables and rather light local receipts created a good demand at the opening, and there was no material setback during the day. Cash prices from 3-4 to 1c up.

PROVISIONS—Another light hog movement today and continued heavy shipments of meats and lard from here gave provisions a further upturn. Shorts covered freely and a large western packer took liberal lines of ribs and lard.

Southern Exchange.

New York, June 7.—COTTON—A narrow price movement and no evidence of speculation prevailed for the most of the day. Some strength developed on short covering and fear of bad weather in the southwest. Liverpool and southern spot markets are quiet and inactive. Today's weather and forecast indicate fair and cooler weather in Texas with somewhat warmer in the territories and Araknsas. Partly cloudy weather over the rest of the belt. High winds are said to prevail in Texas and there has been very little relief of drought in the southeastern part of the state. Absolutely perfect conditions from now on approximate a yield of 12,000,000 bales, chances, of course, do not favor perfect conditions throughout the season. This with possible reduction in acreage estimates gave strength to the option list. An advance from this level can easily take place.

Liverpool Weekly Cotton Statistics.

Liverpool, June 6.—Following are the weekly cotton statistics:

Total sales, all kinds 20,000 bales.
Total sales, American 17,000.
English spinners' takings 49,000.
Total export 4,000.
Imports, all kinds 14,000.
Imports, American 9,000.
Stock, all kinds 862,000.
Stock, American 751,000.
Quaintity afloat, American 41,000.
Total sales on speculation 400.
Total sales to exporters 3,200.

R. H. Siedenberg & Co.

New York, June 7—COTTON—Liverpool was lower than expected at the opening and was very inactive during the rest of the session. News from that market was of an indifferent character and the spot situation was said to be less favorable than it has recently been. Our market, though soft at the opening, showed a better tone later and displayed some strength on buying orders of July, said to be for the account of the leading bull operator. The steadiness of prices around the present level has had the effect of moderating the bearish feeling which was so strong on the recent decline and there is more pessimism shown by local operators in selling the market down than has redently been the case. The feeling generally seems to be that prices will not break materially, pending further developments of the crop. Scalping operations for short turns offer now the only safe means of making small profits. Liverpool is due 2 up Monday.

STOCKS CONTINUE UPWARD TENDENCY

Realizing in the Late Trading Failed To Break Stocks Which Had Developed Early Strength, Though the Closing Tone Was Heavy.

New York, June 7.—Operations by a professional organization were still clearly discernable in the stock market today and made up the largest proposition of the total dealings. The character of the trading made itself manifest by the concentrated nature of the orders in individual stocks and by rotation of dealings of this kind from one quarter of the market to another. This accounted for the spotty appearance of the market and the intervals of idleness between spurts of activity in one stock or another. The movements of individual stocks had some item of gossip to accompany them, but these lacked official confirmation in some cases and were clearly based on surmise. St. Paul was still bought on belief in coming stock subscription rights and the known approach of a new issue of New York Central stock already authorized made the same explanation available for the movement in that stock. Union Pacific was the subject of rumors of a distribution on Southern Pacific from which it would benefit by its large holdings. Illinois Central was affected by belief in a dispute for control of the property. Reading and Amalgamated Copper moved under the influence of often repeated rumors and inferences. The price of silver suffered a violent reaction from its recent extreme rise, thus demonstrating that the rise was due to an overbought condition of the market. The realizing which more or less was in evidence all day became more pronounced at the close of the day, and the closing was heavy. Bonds were irregular. Total par value $3,650,000.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

(From The New York Press.)

Some boys that go to college can't even learn to play golf.

When the cook has a good temper it's a sign she can't cook.

There's a certain kind of fellow that is proud to be run over by a millionaire's automobile.

There is hardly anything as uncomfortable as to meet a summer girl you were engaged to and not be able to remember her name.

The only way to get the cook to stay is to keep on discharging her.

The way to have your wife save out of her allowance is to owe it to her.

I do not propose, however, to tire you with ancient history. The mill will never grind with the water that is past and there are no heels on last year's shoes. What I desire to ask you, gentlemen, is this: Shall we permit a private corporation to blast away and use for building purposes the rock which marks the site of what was once the world's most awful cateract? Shall we—"
